HINDU COURT CASE ADJOURNED AGAIN

Arrangements Proceed for Big Mass Meeting to Be Held at Vancouver

GURDIT SINGH ENTERS INTO LUMBER BUSINESS

Advertises in Newspaper for Four Shiploads Annually for Five Years

HINDUS ATTEMPT TO EVADE REGULATIONS

Vancouver, June 23.—The application for mandamus made by J. E. Bird, counsel for the Hindus, to compel the issue of decisions by the immigration inquiry board, was again called in court this morning and again adjourned for one day because counsel in the case were not ready to proceed.

Arrangements are going ahead apace for a big mass meeting this evening at the Dominion hall, to be held at the call of the mayor.

That Gurdit Singh is apparently by no means dismayed in his proposal to establish a line of steamers to bring Hindus to British Columbia and in turn to carry Canadian freight to the other side of the Pacific is indicated by a letter which he sent to-day to a Vancouver newspaper. The letter asks for the insertion of the following advertisement:

"Wanted—Agents to supply four ships a year up to five years for India, with best class and every kind of lumber. Apply with price list and specimens of lumber.

(Signed) "Gurdit Singh, Charterer steamer Komagata Maru, Vancouver, B. C., Harbor."

Considerable excitement was created at the C. P. R. pier A at noon today when three Hindus attempted to go out to the Komagata Maru in a chartered boat against the order of immigration officers.

H. Rahim, together with Bhad Singh and Balwont Singh had chartered a small motor boat and were just casting off from Pier A when Immigration Inspector Paul Howard caught sight of them and ordered them back to land. The Hindus showed no desire to comply with the order, and when they finally did come back, commenced to abuse Mr. Howard. He immediately called the police station, and within a few minutes four police officers were on the spot ready to cope with any possible trouble. After taking the names of the Hindus the police officers advised them to leave the premises, which they did. The marine excursion was apparently called off.

A suggestion by Ald. Dodd, of New Westminster, that a mass meeting be called by the mayor to protest against this Hindu invasion was turned down by the council, as they felt it might weaken the original resolution of protest passed last night. However, a mass meeting will be held in a few days, as several public bodies have approached Mayor Gray on the question.

Mayor Gray said he was prepared to contribute liberally toward a movement to send the Hindus straight through to Ottawa if they are successful in landing from the Komagata Maru. He thought such a delegation in box cars would cause the east to realize what the people of British Columbia have to cope with.

WOKE UP CONSTABLE BLOWING OPEN SAFE

Attempt to Rob Bank at Mission Frustrated by Noise and Officer's Quick Action.

Vancouver, June 23.—Police Constable John Clarkson, of Mission, a railway junction village 35 miles from Vancouver, was awakened at 1 o'clock this morning by a blast that shook his house. He snatched up his revolver and slipped downstairs to the street when a man standing in the door of the Bank of Nova Scotia, not 30 feet away, began shooting at him. Clarkson blazed away with all the cartridges he had in his gun and saw three men run away from the bank.

Upon investigation Clarkson found that the front door of the bank safe had been blown off, evidently with a charge of nitro-glycerine. The time-lock, however, held fast and though the robbers had used crowbars, they were unable to break in. No money was missing.

The robbers got away into the woods, but a posse is now after them. More than $20,000 was in the safe.

WILL SELL BATTLESHIPS.

Washington, June 23.—The administration's proposal to sell the battleships Idaho and Mississippi to Greece, already approved by the senate, was passed by the house to-day by a vote of 174 to 87. One Dreadnought will be built with the proceeds.

FOUR HUNDRED ON HINDU SHIP NOW COMING TO COAST

Calcutta, June 22.—With 400 Hindustani passengers on board, the Norwegian steamer Christian Michelson, has left here for Vancouver, via Shanghai. Her passengers were carefully selected for physical fitness and each man is free from disease and provided with the requisite amount of money. The steamer is under charter to a Calcutta woman of wealth, but it is understood that a Parsee merchant of Bombay, named Jamsetjee, is interested in a Canadian emigration scheme on a large scale.

AMENDING BILL IS PUT BEFORE LORDS

Situation Never Paralleled in Parliamentary Procedure in British Isles.

London, June 23.—The crisis in connection with the granting of Home Rule to Ireland, entered another stage to-day when the Marquis of Crewe, Liberal leader in the House of Lords, introduced a bill to amend the Irish Home Rule bill. The terms of the amending bill are identical with those offered on March 9 by Premier Asquith and contemptuously refused by Sir Edward Carson, the Irish Unionist leader, who described the premier's proposal as a hypocritical sham.

By the new bill the parliamentary electors of each county in Ulster would be allowed to decide by vote whether the county shall be excluded from the provisions of the Home Rule bill for a period of six years from the first meeting of the new Irish parliament.

The situation has never been paralleled in parliamentary procedure in the British Isles. Never before has a bill been presented to parliament to amend a measure not yet on the statute books. This was, however, the only means of overcoming the deadlock, as the House of Lords refused to consider the main bill until the full proposals of the government were before it.

MOYER IS DEFEATED IN BUTTE UNION DISPUTE

Miners Enrolling Under New Order Said to Be Ninety-Three Per Cent. of Men.

Butte, Mont., June 23.—With offices established in the business district, the new Butte mine workers union is today enrolling the miners who have espoused the cause of an independent organization. President Michael McDonald declared that at least ninety-three per cent. of the miners of Butte will affiliate with the new organization.

Officers of the new union declare the action of President Moyer, of the Western Federation of Miners in calling off the meeting of the federation's union for this afternoon indicates that the federation chief realizes he cannot secure the attendance he desired. The regular meeting of that union will be held to-night with Moyer in charge.

Moyer stated to-day that a thorough probe of the old union's affairs would be made at once, and any irregularities or abuses discovered will be rectified. Plans will also be laid for a new election of officers. Moyer has sent out a call for all miners holding federation cards showing dues paid up, to attend the meeting.

HON. SAMUEL H. BLAKE, NOTED LAWYER, DEAD

Was Prominent Churchman and Leading Counsel in Canada in Former Years.

He had been in feeble condition for several years, and for the past few weeks had been confined to his house.

Hon. "Sam" Blake, as he was popularly known, was one of the most notable figures in Canadian public life. Not only was he the leading layman of the Anglican church, but he was the chief counsel at the Canadian bar in his day. He was described as having the most scorching tongue and one of the kindest hearts in Canada.

OFFERS PROOF THAT MONEY WAS RECEIVED

Statement Made To-day in Inquiry Regarding Premier Flemming's Actions

CARVELL OFFERS TO GIVE THE FULL PARTICULARS

Scope of Investigation Limited in Regard to Names of Those Who Paid

VALLEY RAILWAY CASE OCCUPIES ATTENTION

St. John, N. B., June 23.—That a contractor will be placed on the stand who will tell of the payment of money to Premier Flemming personally, was the startling prediction made by F. C. Carvell, K.C., early in the inquiry today into the affairs of the St. John Valley railroad.

The statement was instantly and vigorously objected to by T. J. Carter, K.C., who told Mr. Carvell that he no business to make such a declaration.

"I have the name and the date, if you want the information I will give it to you now," answered Mr. Carvell.

Mr. Carter retorted that the assertion was made for political effect and that it was irregular and that it was uncalled for at this juncture.

Mr. Justice McKeown states that he had decided to refuse the application of Premier Flemming for further particulars as to names of persons alleged to have paid money and amounts said to have been paid. This application was made some days ago and after deliberation the commission decided that the scope of the inquiry would be broad enough to bring out the facts as they developed.

The Valley railway charges as they are familiarly referred to, include an accusation of specific pay by contractors to Premier Flemming and Hon. H. F. McLeod, formerly the provincial secretary and now member for York in the House of Commons. It was decided that the personal charges would not be proceeded with to-day, and neither of the accused men was in the court. The evidence, therefore, was mainly technical, detailing mileage, progress of work, sources of ballasting material and costs. In a way the evidence of Burton M. Hill, was a series of definitions of railway contracting terms and phrases that will form a basis for the interpretation of later testimony.

There was a re-adjustment of counsel to-day, M. O. Teed, K. C., appeared for the premier, G. W. Fowler, K. C., for the attorney-general, T. J. Carter for Hon. H. F. McLeod, Daniel Mullin, K. C., for St. John and Quebec railway.

Burton M. Hill, divisional engineer on the St. John and Quebec railway since May, 1912, said his work extended for 23 miles north of Woodstock and 33 miles south of that city. Kennedy and McDonald had the contract for the northern section, and the Hibbard company the southern section. The witness defined how estimates were compiled by the resident engineers who made measurements and reports on the work done.

AD. MEN AT TORONTO DOWN TO SOLID WORK

Contest for Printers Ink Cup Draws Out Fourteen Competing Clubs.

Toronto, Ont., June 23.—The Associated Ad Clubs of the World, as the new title of the association adopted yesterday has it, got down to solid work to-day. The convention split up into sections. The work of organizing and regulating advertising to the benefit of the advertiser, of advertising men, and the community, went forward. Sixteen departmental sessions, groups of men interested in some special phase of advertising, met separately. The morning was spent chiefly in organization.

In the contest for the printers' ink cup for the best record for the year, fourteen clubs were entered. The contestants in order were: Cincinnati, the Pilgrims of Boston, Des Moines, Nevada, Ohio, Los Angeles, Bridgeport, Ohio; El Paso, New York, Minneapolis and Edmonton.

For El Paso, R. E. Sherman made a fine oratorical effort, citing what the club had done in the way of cleaning out the grafter and the fakir. When he concluded there were cries of "Give it to El Paso."

W. A. McLean, of Edmonton, also captured the audience, and there were further shouts of "Let Edmonton and El Paso fight it out." The result will be determined later.

The advertising and selling essay prize was awarded to J. P. Beck, advertising manager of the Universal Portland Cement Company of Chicago. Four others received honorable mention, H. R. Ashcroft, Montreal; T. Purkis, Toronto; Marshall Olds, New York, and G. M. Wessels, Philadelphia.

The officers will receive the hospitality of the government and the city authorities. The vessels leave here on Thursday for Tacoma, visiting Puget Sound ports before steaming for Japan.

HISTORIAN OF FUTURE TO TELL WEIRD STORY

Twentieth Century Barbarianism Will Be His Subject, Says Physician

Atlantic City, N. J., June 23.—At the first general session of the sixty-fifth annual convention of the American Medical association here to-day, Dr. Victor C. Vaughn was installed as president of the association, succeeding John A. Witherspoon, of Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Vaughn made "the service of medicine to civilization" the subject of his inaugural address.

"In the last century the average of human life has been increased by fifteen years, and this increase could be duplicated in the next 20 years," he said, "if the facts we now possess were effectively employed.

"The further developments of medicine, both curative and preventive, depend on scientific investigations. The public is the beneficiary, and should in every way encourage medical research. The federal government and the states should sustain and promote scientific research. That government is the best which secures for its citizens the greatest freedom from disease, the highest degree of health and the longest life, and that people which most fully secures the enjoyment of these blessings will dominate the world.

"We boast of great civilization, but this is justified only within limits. The historian of the future will have difficulty in convincing his readers that those who lived at the beginning of the twentieth century were but slightly removed from barbarism, as he will tell that the school, saloon and immoral house flourished in proximity; that the capitalist worked his employees under conditions which precluded soundness of body; that the labor union man dynamited buildings; that while we sent missionaries to convert the Mosiems and the Buddhists, 10,000 murders were committed annually in our midst, and that a large percentage of our mortality was due to preventable disease."

Sunday school teacher training and the organizing of Sunday schools on a basis of real efficiency in delivering instructions on the Bible and in building up Christian character will be the most important subjects of the session. All evangelical denominations are represented.

GOLD DISCOVERED ON WILLOW RIVER BANKS

Resident of Fort George Stampede to Scene and Are Staking Claims.

Vancouver, June 23.—Gold has been discovered on the banks of the Willow river, 30 miles east of Fort George, according to a private telegram received here to-day by E. H. Heaps, and there is great excitement in Fort George over the discovery. Many Fort George residents are stampeding to Willow river and are staking claims, both quartz and placer, according to Mr. Heaps' message.

The stream on which the claims are being staked rises in the Cariboo country not far from Barkerville, the scene of many rich gold finds of earlier days. This fact lends support to the belief that valuable claims will be found at Willow river townsite, the precious metal having come down from the Cariboo.

Mr. Heaps said to-day that although he was interested there he had not been aware that any prospecting was being done in the vicinity of the townsite, and the announcement of the find was news to him.

GOOD LEADERS NEEDED FOR LABOR UNIONISTS

Right to Organize by Both Sides is Conceded by John Wanamaker

Philadelphia, Pa., June 23.—"It's an insane thing not to recognize organizations of labor," said John Wanamaker to-day in giving further testimony before the United States commission on industrial relations. He made this statement in reply to a question whether employers should recognize labor unions. On the general question of labor unionism, Mr. Wanamaker said he believed labor had suffered frightfully in the past because of poor leaders, but added that he is seeing a better class of leadership coming in.

Commissioner Weinstock, of California, who presided to-day, asked the witness if he could supply the missing link that would bring capital and labor together. Mr. Wanamaker said: "I believe that labor and capital have the right to organize. On the one side, capital, there is responsibility, and on the other, labor, there is none. The missing links, I believe, to be prejudice and misunderstanding, which must be overcome. One of the ways to wipe out this prejudice and misunderstanding is to unhitch labor unions from political parties."

Speaking of capital, Mr. Wanamaker said John D. Rockefeller, jr., made a great mistake when he put President Wilson in the position of sending troops into Colorado.

"I might be mistaken in this," he said, "but that is the way I feel about it. Contact with the employees is a remedy for much misunderstanding. There are labor unions which have no other purpose than to protect their wages. Men who spend their time getting their salaries raised generally fail."

SHACKLETON'S DOGS NUMBER HUNDRED ON WAY TO MONTREAL

Selkirk, Man., June 22.—Three carloads of huskie dogs for Sir Ernest Shackleton's Antarctic expedition left here to-day for Montreal, where they will be transferred to the steamer Montcalm and shipped to Liverpool. There were 100 dogs in all, each in a separate crate. The huskies were purchased at different points on Lake Winnipeg by Mr. Henry, the Hudson's Bay trade commissioner.

INDIAN LAND QUESTION WILL GO BEFORE COURT

Government Takes Steps Regarding Areas in British Columbia.

Ottawa, June 23.—The government has taken definite steps to have the courts settle the question of the rights of the Indians of British Columbia to title to certain extensive areas of land within the borders of that province. An order-in-council has been passed providing that the claims of the Indians be submitted to the Exchequer court with the right to appeal to the Privy Council.

Should the courts decide that the Indians are entitled to the lands they will be surrendered according to the customary terms governing the extinguishment of titles. Should the decision be against the Indians the land question will be dealt with by the Dominion government in the best interests of the red men. The order-in-council makes provision for the setting aside of certain reserves.

CARRANZA DECLINES INFORMAL MEETING

Calderon, on Way to Niagara, is Representative of Mexican Liberal Party

MEDIATION SKY APPEARS APPARENTLY CLOUDLESS

Villa Gains Point by Removal of Men in Office Close to Carranza

HAY AND CABRERA ARE TO FILL THE VACANCIES

New Orelans, La., June 23.—Carranza will not accept the invitation of the United States government to send representatives to meet informally agents to Huerta to endeavor to select a provisional president of Mexico, according to a statement here to-day by Alfredo Breceda, private secretary of Carranza, and a member of the latest commission Carranza is sending to Washington.

Coming direct from a visit to General Venustiano Carranza, Fernando Calderon, a leader of the Liberal party of Mexico is en route to Washington to confer with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, not as a representative of Carranza, but as leader of the Liberal party. With Alfredo Breceda, private secretary to Carranza, and L. F. Villa-Vincenzio, a constitutionalist official of Saltillo, he arrived here yesterday. It is expected they will leave for Washington to-night.

Calderon was emphatic to-day in his declaration that he would not represent Carranza in any negotiations that he might enter, either at Washington or at Niagara Falls. His traveling companions, however, stated that Calderon might act as a go-between for the constitutionalists in whatever negotiations he might be a party to.

Washington, June 23.—No formal answer to the invitation extended by the American peace commissioners at Niagara Falls to constitutionalist agents for an informal conference over Mexican peace plans is expected to be made until confidential agents of General Carranza reach Washington late to-day or to-morrow.

Fernando Iglesias Calderon, Alfredo Breceda and Leopoldo Huerta di Espinosa are en route with instructions from the constitutionalist chief. In official quarters to-day, it was declared by one high in authority that he saw absolutely no clouds now on the mediation horizon. In administration circles the hope for ultimate success of the peace conference was considered more promising.

El Paso, Tex., June 23.—The removal of General Trevino as Carranza's chief of staff and of Ysidro Fabela, acting minister of foreign relations in the constitutionalist cabinet, reported from Saltillo, was taken by revolutionists here to-day as a victory for the Villa faction. Both were said to have been opposed to Villa's southern campaign and in favor of the creation of the new military zone which blocked his progress until Villa insisted on continuing his advance toward Mexico City.

The prospective appointment of Eduardo F. Hay as chief of staff was hailed as agreeable to both factions. Hay, now chief of staff to General Iturbe in Sinaloa, won his spurs in the Madero revolution. He was the hero of the first battle of Casas Grandes, where he lost an eye. Later he was sent to Europe by Madero on a diplomatic mission. He is a civil engineer and a graduate of the University of Notre Dame, Ind.

Ysidro Fabela, a young attorney of Mexico City, took a conspicuous part in drafting Carranza's notes to the Washington government and to Niagara Falls in connection with the Mexican mediation conference. It was predicted here that Luis Cabrera, now in Washington, will succeed him in the foreign relations portfolio. The presence near Carranza of Hay and Cabrera would create a different attitude on the part of the constitutionalist government both internally and internationally, is the belief of local observers.

The federal garrison was preparing yesterday to evacuate Guaymas, according to information received by Ygnacio Bonillas, minister of communication in the Carranza cabinet. Mr. Bonillas stopped here to-day on his way to Saltillo after investigating for General Carranza the internal dissensions in Sonora state.

GERMANY AND FRANCE WANT HAYTI TO PAY

Washington, June 23.—Reports that Germany and France, dissatisfied with Hayti's payments of debts to their nations, were about to seize the customs house, when brought to the attention of Secretary Bryan to-day, brought out the statement that neither government had intimated any dissatisfaction to the United States.

RAILWAY STRIKE IS THREATENED IN JULY

Canadian Employees May First Seek Arbitration Under Lemieux Act

Winnipeg, June 22.—It is reported here that local members of the Locomotive Engineers and Fireman's unions are discussing the possibilities of a general strike of their unions, following the failure of the railway companies and unions to agree upon a schedule at the recent congress in Chicago. According to present information received by the men, a general strike on all lines west of Chicago, including the United States and Canada will be ordered on July 15 next. This covers 95 different railways and about 3,000 men in western Canada. All systems are involved.

Negotiations on the schedule have been in progress for many weeks, and it is claimed by the men that the companies have been making an effort to reduce the men to their position of thirty years ago so far as wages and working conditions are concerned. The two unions involved at the present time have funds that run into millions of dollars, and it is said they are preparing for a fight to a finish unless a working agreement is arrived at before July 15.

While the general statement is that Canadian lines will be involved in the strike there has been no confirmation of this received from the Winnipeg headquarters of the organizations. In the past all disputes between the company and the men have been submitted to a court of arbitration provided under the Lemieux act. Whether the Canadian unions will appeal to this court before a general strike is called is not known.

RIOT PREDICTED IF HINDUS SHOULD LAND

H. H. Stevens Writes to Ottawa Asking Backing for Reid

Ottawa, June 23.—The government is in receipt of a long telegram from H. H. Stevens, M. P. for Vancouver, in which fear is expressed of a serious riot in the city in the event of the Hindus on board the Komagata Maru being allowed to land as the result of an unfavorable finding being given by the court against Malcolm Reid's action as immigration officer.

Mr. Stevens fears that the citizens of Vancouver will resent the landing of the Hindus in such an event to the extent of bloodshed.

Mr. Stevens is very anxious to get rid of the Hindus to the extent of having them towed out of the harbor and turned over to a Japanese guard beyond the three-mile limit. Mr. Stevens asks that the department give backing to Malcolm Reid in his efforts to get the Hindus out, in view of the possibility of at least a long delay if the matter gets in to the courts.

Mr. Stevens also asks that section 23 of the act be invoked to give the officials power to override any order the court may make. It is stated that the last proposal is not possible from a legal standpoint.

In the absence of Hon. Dr. Roche, minister of the interior, in Manitoba, Hon. C. J. Doherty has been acting minister. He also left for Quebec today, and the prime minister has to take charge, there not being sufficient ministers at Ottawa to form a cabinet quorum.

New Westminster, June 23.—The city council last night passed a resolution protesting against the admission of the East Indians on the Komagata Maru into Canada. The resolution will be forwarded to Premier Sir Robert Borden at Ottawa without delay. Arrangements are being made to hold a mass meeting to voice further protests.

A MESSAGE TO THIN, WEAK, SCRAWNY FOLKS

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs. of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. D. D. Campbell and other good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

CAUTION:—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder.

STEAMER STORSTAD TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION

Bodies Entombed on Empress of Ireland Are Not to Be Brought Up

Montreal, June 23.—Mr. Justice Dunlop, in the admiralty court here yesterday, with consent of both parties, ordered the sale by auction of the collier Storstad, which rammed and sank the Empress of Ireland near Father Point on May 29. This follows the seizure of the vessel on her arrival here on June 1 at the instance of the C. P. R., owners of the Empress boat.

The sale is to take place by public auction on the 7th of July at the courthouse, after due notice has been given in the New York Journal of Commerce and the Montreal Gazette. The money is to be paid into court.

Quebec, June 23.—All attempts to get the 800 bodies entombed in the sunken hull of the Empress of Ireland were abandoned yesterday, following the conference between Lieut.-commander Forbes, of H. M. S. Essex, and the divers at the scene of the wreck as a result of the death of Cossboom, of New York, on Sunday, from his fall off the slimy hull of the steamer.

Commander Forbes' investigations showed that the accident happened while the water was at low level, that every precaution for deep sea diving operations was properly carried out, and that no better conditions for carrying on the work could be expected.

Commander Forbes notified Captain Walsh, marine superintendent of the C. P. R., of these facts, and suggested that the divers from the Essex be sent back to their ship here.

Captain Walsh, after consulting with Captain Watson, of the Essex, decided that everything possible had been done to secure the bodies, and that nothing could be gained by the divers remaining at Father Point. They were accordingly ordered to return to their ship.

Maintaining its record for producing contradictory statements that cannot be reconciled to one another, the Empress of Ireland wreck inquiry yesterday unearthed a fact when it was given the exact location of the hull of the liner on the bottom of the St. Lawrence, which again drew attention to the different positions of the ships at the time of the disaster. On the map it was found that the resting place is one mile and a quarter south of the place where Captain Kendall, the commander, says she was hit; and one mile northwest of the point at which Chief Officer Tuftness, of the collier Storstad, contends the collision occurred. The location of the wreck was explained by Captain Gagnon, of the Dominion marine department, who buoyed it.

An effort was made to get further details about the operation of the Storstad from Chief Officer Tuftness, who had filed his scrap and deck logbooks. The attempt was temporarily abandoned because it was discovered that, like the engine-room log, a number of the important facts referred to had been written up after an interval of some hours, and the officer was hurried off to Montreal for the memorandum he had made at the time the orders were issued. One important fact came out, however, and that was that the first officer, who was in charge of the collier immediately before the collision, was not told by the third officer, Jacob Saxe, that he had put the helm hard aport when the ship failed to respond to the port helm order.

A quietus was given to the suggestions made in questions asked during the inquiry that the Storstad was speeding because the officers and crew got a bonus for quick trips. G. R. McIsaacs, general traffic manager of the Dominion Coal company, which chartered the ship, said that while gratuities were given, they went to ships carrying the most tonnage, speed not being considered.

The cause of the tremendous inrush of water into the punctured hull of the Empress was again obviously the motive of a number of questions asked by Lord Mersey of William Moir, a night watchman on the Empress, who was examined as to how many portholes were left open. This witness could supply no definite information, though the assumption was left that, the night being fine, and the river calm, many of them were not closed, and when the list grew great the flow of water through the hole into the hull was augmented through the open portholes.

POWELL RELEASED IN MONTREAL BANK CASE

New Westminster, June 23.—Martin Powell, arrested at Detroit and extradited to Canada nearly a year ago, charged with complicity in the Bank of Montreal robbery when that institution was looted of $271,000, received a stay of proceedings in assize court yesterday, and the charge against him was withdrawn. Powell was released from custody. When arrested he had a large number of stolen Bank of Montreal bills in his possession.

ASKS ALL TO FORGET THE MASON AND DIXON LINE

Washington, June 22.—President Wilson expressed the wish to-day that the Mason & Dixon line be forever forgotten. In a letter to H. B. Joy, of the Lincoln Highway association, asking that the road run from Philadelphia to Gettysburg, through Washington, the president suggested that it would be a good means of further obliterating sectional feeling between the north and south.

CARLOADS OF STEEL ARRIVE AT KAMLOOPS

Railway Building on C. N. P. R. and V. V. & E. Lines Progressing Rapidly

Vancouver, June 23.—Carloads of steel for track on the C. N. R. route north and west of Kamloops are commencing to arrive at Kamloops. Of the first consignment of 82 cars more than 8,000 tons, 25 carloads, were received yesterday and other large shipments are en route. Tracklaying is to be proceeded with at once. Forty-five thousand tons of rails have been ordered by the C. N. P. R. for British Columbia lines. Bridge building near Lytton is being rushed so that rails may be laid from the western end of the Port Mann-Kamloops section as well as from the eastern end.

Track laying on the Coalmont section of the V. V. & E. line through the Similkameen is to be started early next month, states J. H. Kennedy, assistant to the chief engineer of the line, who has recently returned from a trip over the Hope Mountain route in company with A. H. Rogeland, chief engineer of the G. N. R. This portion of the road is to be used jointly by the Kettle Valley railway and the V. V. & E., in accordance with an arrangement between the two companies.

The V. V. & E. portion of the line between Coalmont and Otter Summit will be ready for traffic this summer. Pending the completion of the main route from Coquehalla Summit to Hope the C. P. R. will operate trains via the Nicola Valley branch and Merritt, around by the Kettle Valley line into the Similkameen and the Okanagan. Rapid progress is being made with the portions of the Kettle Valley route east of Coalmont and in the Okanagan.

In order that structural work may be started on the bridge across the Fraser near Hope, grading is being done on the connecting link between the C. P. R. and the bridge on the north side. The sub-structure of the bridge is finished, and as soon as the mile and a half section of track which will be required to furnish the connection has been built, steel for the bridge will be transported. It is planned to start the erection of the structure next month. Rails for the Hope-Coquehalla joint section will also be shipped via the C. P. R. and over the new bridge to Hope.

ARCHBISHOP EXTENDS SYMPATHY OF CHURCH

Salvation Army Congress in London Concludes To-day With Parade of 50,000.

London, June 23.—In a letter to the Salvation Army congress the Archbishop of Canterbury writes: "The army authorities will not expect that we can, as the Church of England, express agreement with their doctrinal or ecclesiastical position, but this wide difference in no way weakens our appreciation of the remarkable service they beyond all doubt have rendered the community both in England and abroad. Special solemnity attaches to this congress from the tragic cloud which has overshadowed the gathering. The army will know how deep is our prayerful sympathy."

The congress concludes to-day with a demonstration at the Crystal Palace lasting from 7 o'clock this morning till 10 o'clock to-night, and including the march past before General Brainwell Booth of fifty thousand Salvationists.

STORMS PLAY HAVOC CROPS SWEPT AWAY

Lightning Sets Fire to Oil Tanks; Tornado Wrecks Whole County in Ohio

Kansas City, Mo., June 23.—Scores were driven from their homes, whole wheatfields swept away, corn damaged and much livestock lost Wednesday as a result of the heaviest rains in Kansas in years. Dozens of creeks and rivers in Northwest Kansas have left their banks and flooded the surrounding countries. In the vicinity of Patter, Kas., fourteen inches of rain was reported, and the Valley Falls the precipitation amounted to nine and three-eights inches. Railroad traffic is demoralized.

Columbus, Ohio, June 23.—Various kinds of storms broke over Central Ohio yesterday morning, injuring a score of persons and damaging thousands of dollars' worth of property. Rain fell in some sections, breaking a drought which had threatened growing crops.

A tornado passed through Shelby county, working havoc in its path and terrorizing the citizens of Quincy, a village of 500 population. Several buildings, including a church, were destroyed and the telephone and telegraph service demoralized.

Lightning set fire to two 300-barrel oil tanks near Newark. Many farm buildings ignited by lightning also were reported burned.

NANAIMO MINERS VOTE TO CONTINUE ON STRIKE

Action is Taken in View of Desire to Outlast Strike Pay From Indianapolis.

Nanaimo, June 23.—While not officially made public it is stated on reliable authority that the miners of Vancouver island, on strike over a year have voted by a majority of twelve hundred and fifty to continue the industrial struggle, because the men feel confident that the international organization will soon stop paying relief money, and are anxious for the men to call the strike off. This action on the part of the men would enable the organization to excuse itself from further payment of strike money.

Although having voted to continue the strike the strikers feel confident that word will soon be received from Indianapolis to the effect that relief money has been stopped, in which case the strike will at once collapse as the strikers will feel that they have been finally turned down by the international organization, and find it impossible to further continue the struggle without financial assistance.

WOULD BREAK MARRIAGE MADE AT DEATH BED

Mother of Plaintiff to Suit Says Bridegroom Was Too Ill to Understand.

New York, June 23.—An action to set aside the marriage of Charles W. Scofield to his nurse, Jane Winifred Fitzsimmons, which took place three hours before he died at the Hotel St. George on February 2 last, was begun yesterday in the supreme court by Lieut. Seth W. Scofield, U. S. A., grandson of Charles W. Scofield. At the time of the marriage Miss Fitzsimmons was 28 years of age and the bridegroom 79.

The question of the validity of the marriage involves the control of an estate of $50,000, it is said. Of this $40,000 was left Charles W. Scofield by his first wife, the actress, Libbie Stowell, who died in Los Angeles 25 years after their separation.

The plaintiff alleges that his grandfather was mentally incapable of legally contracting a marriage at the time the ceremony uniting him and Miss Fitzsimmons was performed, and asks to have the marriage set aside.

Mrs. Mary Oakley Scofield, mother of the plaintiff on the stand yesterday, testified that she was present at the wedding and had protested against it, as her father-in-law did not seem to know what was going on. She testified Scofield was so weak he could not hold the pen to sign his license application. Then, Mrs. Scofield testified, Miss Fitzsimmons took Scofield's hand and placed it on the line where he was to sign the name.

A PREPOSTEROUS CLAIM.

If the East Indians on the Komagata Maru are able to show that they are not laborers or artizans, and therefore are not subject to the order-in-council excluding these classes, there are two provisions in the immigration law under which they can be barred from admission. These give the Governor-in-Council authority to issue orders prohibiting the landing in Canada of any immigrant who comes otherwise than by continuous journey from the country of which he or she is a native or naturalized citizen and of any immigrant who does not possess in his or her own right the sum of two hundred dollars. This authority has been duly exercised and action is being taken in pursuance of the orders founded upon it. The passengers aboard the Komagata Maru frankly admit that they do not meet the qualifications prescribed in the regulations, but base their claim for admission on their British citizenship. This contention forms the subject of a leading article which appeared in the London Times recently, with special application to the situation at Vancouver. The Times says:

"The inquiry into the claims of the Hindus on board the Komagata Maru to be allowed to enter Canada is still proceeding, but there can be little doubt of its result. Canadians, as our correspondent at Toronto showed in the article which he contributed to the Empire Number of the Times, published on May 25, are determined not to allow Asiatics to enter the Dominion except under severe restrictions. The promoters of the enterprise which has brought a shipload of Hindus to its sea-gates are equally determined to assert the right of free entry on behalf of Asiatics who are British subjects. We find it difficult to believe that their action is approved by the wisest of the Indian leaders. This is no new controversy. It has raged in an acute form in other parts of the British dominions before now. But the champions of Indian rights who have taken most trouble to master the question in all its aspects have recognized that, like other questions, it has two sides. The best instance is that of Mr. Gokhale, a very distinguished leader of Indian opinion, who visited South Africa a year or so ago to investigate the grievances of his compatriots, especially in Natal. He told the people of that Dominion that there was no desire among the subjects of the crown in India to force any claim for admission to the Dominions against the will of the local populations. His moderation and the fairness of his attitude made a very deep impression. The fruits of his visit are to be seen in the bill to remedy the grievances of the Indian community in South Africa which has just been introduced into the South African parliament. But the claims of those who chartered the Komagata Maru are very different. They are based on the assertion that 'British citizenship' involves the right of unrestricted entry into any and every part of the British Dominions. That is the kind of catch-logic which may easily beguile the uninstructed. It should not for a moment mislead any intelligent person who will be at the trouble to think out the meaning of words. It is preposterous because it ignores the facts. The facts are that free peoples have a right to say whom they will admit into their country, just as free men have a right to say whom they will admit into their house. This right is exercised in practice; it is not merely a theoretical right. It operates quite irrespective of color, so that there are numbers of men—white, and subjects of the crown—who are excluded from the Dominions. It is useless to say that this should not be. It is; and the mere fact that it is shows that a phrase like 'British citizenship' cannot be used as a talisman to open the doors of men who are prepared to apply its prohibitions as much as its privileges to their own kin."

JOE COMING BACK.

After a brief but stirring career in British political life, Hon. Joseph Martin has decided that he has had enough of it. He is coming home for a holiday, to attend to his business interests in British Columbia and to resume his practice as a barrister. This is the latest news from St. Pancras East. The Stormy Petrel, applying the term in a strictly political sense—although it might be applied in a general sense also—was reported some time ago to have had the better of a bout with the Asquith government, but apparently that little "go" really was a draw, or Joe would have stayed in the ring and fought the fracas to a finish. Anyway, the essential fact is that Mr. Martin is coming back to British Columbia. He has had his fling in Manitoba, he made things move in British Columbia, he created a temporary diversion at the seat of Empire—now he is about to take another turn in the province which is the most attractive of all from every point of view, even from that of the Oriental. We have an idea that possibly Joe thinks things are shaping themselves here for a fine political blowout, and that he desires to be right on the spot when the match is applied. Things are not going too smoothly with Sir Richard and his party just now. Complications are looming up darkly on the political horizon. None of the "undertakings" has been fulfilled, and there is little prospect of the immediate or remote fulfilment of any of them. Therefore, there is bound to be a denouement, and Joe Martin pants to take a hand in the grand melee when the political elements go on the rampage. We have an idea that herein will be found the true reason why Hon. Joseph Martin is leaving St. Pancras East and "seeking rest from his labors" in British Columbia. Now can anyone imagine Joe taking his ease while hot political brickbats are hurling through the air? There are stirring times ahead. The advent of the stormy petred always has portended turmoil.

AIRCRAFT AND IMMIGRATION.

Some of the more daring of aviators claim they can drive their flying machines across the Atlantic, and there is nothing more certain than that the feat will be accomplished in time. But for the present the calling of such birdmen will be classed as an extra hazardous occupation. And it probably will be some time ere such craft carry any considerable number of passengers. We hope so, anyhow, because if they begin carrying passengers across the Atlantic on aeroplanes, they soon will be doing the same thing across the Pacific, and the Asiatic menace to British Columbia will be intensified. Judging from the pertinacity of the Hindus and the attraction which British Columbia has for them, they would be willing to run any risk in crossing the Pacific if only they were assured of a landing when they arrived here. Our immigration officials assuredly would have a job on their hands if they were required to follow the flight of flying machines and prevent anyone legally barred from descending from them. They had no difficulty in arresting the Komagata, but they apparently are in a quandary respecting the disposition of her passengers. She has made the Hindu immigration problem a very complex affair.

MIXING THE HONORS

If the practice of conferring titles had been confined to the rewarding of those who had performed eminent service in the cause of humanity, the state, art and science, it would not now be regarded with growing impatience, to put it mildly. But, unhappily, trafficking in "honors" is as old as the custom of bestowing them. A Roman warrior purchased the throne of the Cæsars, and with it the title "Imperator," for a sum equivalent to a few hundred dollars of our money. A large proportion of the nobility of Europe is descended from parties who resorted to devious means to gain their coronets and ribbands. Bribery, corruption, debauchery, the caprices of monarchs and the exigencies of their pocket-books, have played their part in the creation of the material for the bulky volume known as Burke's Peerage. In recent years both the great political parties in the United Kingdom have found the title market the most prolific source of campaign funds, and honors are disposed of to brewing, mining, financial and commercial magnates with social aspirations, according to a recognized price catalogue. Perhaps their familiarity with these considerations accounts for the absence of such glittering embellishments in the case of Mr. Asquith, Mr. Balfour, and other prominent statesmen.

The most regrettable feature of this practice is that it cheapens the rewards conferred upon men eminently deserving of them. A successful general may be raised to the peerage for services on the battlefield in company with a successful brewer rewarded for services to party funds. The Prime Minister of Canada and his Minister of Trade and Commerce are knighted because of their prominence in the public life of the Dominion, but in the same list, though not perhaps in the same class, are the names of persons who have no national prominence, whose achievements, whatever they may be, are local, and whose honors flow from the influence of party politics.

The honoring of men of the stamp of Kitchener is the leaven which saves the custom of bestowing titles from becoming altogether a subject of jest and irony. In point of achievement he is one of the most outstanding figures of the generation. His record in Egypt has shown that he is greater in peace than in war; the positive, constructive qualities of the statesman have outshone the negative, destructive qualities of the soldier. He is deserving of the highest expression of his country's approval.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS.

Yesterday was nomination day in Ontario. There were two elections by acclamation, one Liberal and one Conservative. In the elections three years and a half ago sixteen Conservatives were elected without a contest. Yesterday one Conservative was declared elected by the returning officer on a technicality, although a Liberal and a Labor candidate presented their nomination papers. So that, while elections are proverbially as uncertain as a horse race, Sir James Whitney and his supporters realise at the last moment that in this contest they are fighting for their political lives. Hitherto they have affected to regard Mr. Rowell and the opposition forces with derision. Whatever the result, the effect upon the affairs of the province will be profound. The contest is not being conducted upon ordinary political issues entirely. The outstanding feature of it is a social question. It is the abolition of the bar in public houses and in clubs. This cry admittedly has split the old-time political divisions in twain. There has been a complete realignment of the forces. A large proportion even of the Conservative candidates have declared that they also favor the abolition of the bar, and justify their opposition to the Rowell propaganda by declaring that the opposition leader is not sincere and that if elected to power he would not carry out in practice his alleged principles. They further point to the great progress that has been made in temperance legislation under the Whitney government, which gave municipalities opportunities of voting themselves "dry" when they could secure three-fifths majorities in favor of bar abolition. Sir James Whitney at one time proposed something even more drastic. He favored a law against treating, but dropped that proposal under pressure from an undiscovered source! Our readers, consequently, will understand that it is no ordinary political contest that is being waged in Ontario, and the result of the polling on Monday next will be awaited with a degree of interest far beyond the ordinary.

THE COLONEL'S COME-BACK.

The Socialist brethren of Cobalt, Ont., passed a resolution in opposition to the organization of a militia regiment in their district. The resolution, which was full of the usual clotted nonsense about the arming of men to do the bidding of the master class, to fight the workers, etc., was forwarded to the Minister of Militia.

Colonel Hughes should have acknowledged the receipt of the resolution and proceeded with the organization of the corps if the majority of the people of the district desired it. Instead he replied in kind, disclosing the possession of a vocabulary of vituperation which would make an I. W. W. soapbox orator turn several colors with envy. We quote a choice paragraph:

"The idea of an institution whose practices are by many regarded as those of the thug, the assassin, the midnight murderer, the hedge-fence artist, the dynamiter, the persecutor of innocent women and children, the destroyer of homes and of business industries—talking of humanity and progress would be laughable if it were not so serious."

We wonder if the colonel omitted anything from that paragraph. In one particular the description is redundant. "Midnight murderer" and "assassin" are the same. We think it would have been better from the standpoint of correct style to have substituted "cradle-snatcher" or "chicken thief" for one of them. "Hedge-fence artist" strikes us as being breezy and original. We are not sure as to its precise meaning, but we may conclude with safety that it does not mean an artist whose specialty is the reproduction on canvas of hedge-fence landscapes.

There are two or three more paragraphs carrying the same kind of verbal dynamite, showing that Colonel Hughes is not the sort of a controversialist to waste all his ammunition in one breath. For instance, near the end of this remarkable epistle—remarkable for a minister of the crown—he says:

"Indeed I feel satisfied, unless you are too low and case hardened, too depraved, that you could be greatly benefited by joining the militia and subjecting yourself to the essential principles of learning to obey and, also, of learning to command. You would then be a better workman, but perhaps you are merely a walking boss living on the labor of other men."

Now, there really was no sense in the Minister of Militia involving himself in a scolding match with the brethren who passed the resolution which aroused his ire. It was only a waste of time, because the style of his come-back was scarcely the kind to convince them of the error of their ways. The colonel should spend a Sunday morning in Hyde Park on his next visit to Europe. There he will find the soapbox brigade shouting for the downfall of law and order and every other pillar of society under the patient protection of undemonstrative bluecoated officers of the law they profess to hate. Militarism rampant is a curse to a country. Military training in reason is a good thing, and requires no purple invective to support it.

Then, screaming with excitement, he cried:

"Oh, boys," he concluded, "what more can I say to convince you of the evils of drink."

Release for Drinkers

No need to enlarge on the desirability of release from the grip of this habit. If you are a heavy drinker, you know only too well how welcome would be the change to a condition free from the craving, free from the need of alcohol, standing on your own legs, renewed in mind and body.

Three Days of Gatlin Will Bring You Back.

Fifteen years of experience stands behind that statement; the unsolicited testimony of thousands of men and women attests its truth. Take the treatment either at home or in the privacy and comfort of the Gatlin Institute here in Victoria. The treatment is harmless and helpful; no hypodermic injections are used. The course involves no hardship for either mind or physique; on the contrary, the tendency is corrective and strengthening from the very beginning. Three days is the period required in almost every case. At end of that time the patient is absolutely free from the desire for alcohol, his system is released from the need of alcoholic stimulant and all alcoholic poison has been discharged. He starts life anew with no more disposition towards alcoholic stimulants than he possessed when a child.

Good rooms, good meals, expert attendance, first-class physicians. These are obtainable in absolute confidence at the Gatlin Institute here. Home treatment just as efficacious when directions are thoroughly carried out.

Horses Straying.—Complaints are being made by the residents in the neighborhood of Cordova Bay, and motorists who use the roads in that vicinity, that horses stray on the roads and are a menace to motorists, especially at night. The animals are apparently allowed by the owners to graze along the roadsides, and sometimes lie down on the road, and if not seen in time would cause a very serious accident.

Motor and Cycle Collide.—While Edmund Pottinger was driving out towards Esquimalt yesterday afternoon and was overtaking another car a little west of Point Ellice bridge, he was run into by a cyclist, George Welsh Lee. In his report to the police Mr. Pottinger states that the cyclist apparently became confused as he was approaching the motor car from the opposite direction and rode right into the latter. The bicycle was badly damaged but no one was hurt.

Work on Pacific Great Eastern.—Grading on the line of the Pacific Great Eastern railway is reported as practically complete from Lillooet westward to headquarters, which is fourteen miles in from Squamish (formerly Newport). Trains are running from Squamish to headquarters and steel is laid for eight miles east of that point. There is some heavy trestle work now in progress in the vicinity of Bear mountain. The scenery is said to be very fine along the route, and the timber and water powers are valuable.

New Wharf at Sidney.—A new wharf is to be built by the Victoria & Sidney Railway company, to replace the present wharf at Sidney. This will be built a short distance away so as to get the shelter of Bazan Bay, will be somewhat larger than the existing wharf and is to cost $10,000. The approval of the federal government for the plans has been secured. This wharf is principally for the purpose of loading and unloading freight cars on and off the barges which are towed between Sidney and Port Guichon.

St. Mark's Sale.—The annual garden party and sale of work of St. Mark's church Ladies' Guild is being held this afternoon, the spacious grounds of the vicarage, Whittier avenue, looking their best with the gay decorations put up for the occasion. Neatly-arranged stalls of plain and fancy needlework form an attraction to the practical minded, and those who are seeking diversion—and they are numerous—find plenty of amusement in the tennis, clock and ladder golf, fish-pond, fortune-telling and other pastimes. This evening the Cadets' band, with the kind permission of Bandmaster Plowright, will give a programme of music.

Rose Festival Artists

Miss Mary Shearer, the young lady on the left in the above picture, is the champion Scotch dancer of British Columbia, and with Miss Edith Emmett, whose art is well known in Seattle and Victoria, she will give an exhibition at the Camosun Chapter, I. O. D. E., at Mount Adelaide, the home of Mrs. Croft, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. John Park, the piper, is champion of the Pacific Coast, and this feature of the programme promises to be most enjoyable.

TRUTH

This is the motto of the advertising men of America who are holding a monster convention in Toronto this month.

A higher standard of ethics than ever known is coming into advertising usage.

Stringent laws are being Passed in the various states making untruthful advertising a crime, and vigilance committees are seeing that they are enforced.

There never was a time when greater safety surrounded the purchase of advertised goods.

The road for the fakes grows harder each year.

CADETS INSPECTED

Major W. H. Belson Reviews University Cadet Battalion No. 170; Prizes Distributed for Shooting.

Major W. H. Belson, inspector of Cadets, yesterday afternoon at the University school carried out an inspection of University Cadet battalion No. 170. The inspection took place at 2.30, in the presence of a number of visitors, including several ladies and officers of the 50th Highland regiment, and a large representation of the masters and schoolboys.

The cadet corps was under command of Cadet-Major Finlayson, and Instructors Capt. R. V. Harvey and Lieut. E. M. Willis. The inspecting officer was received with a general salute, after which the Cadet band played and the cadets presented arms.

Creditable steadiness was displayed in the march past, after which the cadet officer commanding put the battalion through a number of movements, which were carried out without a mistake. This was followed by company drill, the company commanders being Capt. C. Kilpatrick and Capt. A. G. Woodward.

A particularly interesting feature of the proceedings was when Capt. Harvey put the whole battalion through the manual exercises, which were very quickly and methodically done, the boys handling their bayonets exceptionally well considering that these were issued but two weeks ago.

Major Belson, in addressing the lads at the close of the exercises commended them on their smart appearance, cleanliness, and steadiness, and said that they had acquitted themselves extremely well in the drill. He also praised the band, which had played several selections during the proceedings.

Mrs. Belson distributed prizes for shooting, as follows:

Best shot in the corps, Ross rifle, presented by D. M. Rogers, won by Bugler Winch.

Cup for the best aggregate score, presented by Mrs. Gregg, won by Lance-Corporal William.

Handsome shield as team prize, presented by Mrs. Finlayson, won by the following team: Major Finlayson, Capt. Woodward, Lieut. Frampton and Corporal Brouse.

Each of the above lads was awarded a silver spoon presented by Lieut. F. G. Thomas.

Three bronze medals presented by Capt. Harvey were won by Major Finlayson, Lance-Corporal Atkins, and Bugler Winch, the last-named also receiving a silver spoon for making the highest possible score of 7 bulls-eyes at 500 yards.

The inspection is being completed this afternoon.

EN ROUTE TO ENGLAND

Sir Charles Campbell, Who Resides in New Zealand, is on Journey to Old Country.

Although he disowned any association with politics in New Zealand where he makes his home, Sir Charles Ralph Campbell, Bart., of Cheviot Hills, N. Z., who passed through on the R. M. S. Makura this morning to Vancouver en route to the old country, praised the Massey government as one which was giving that dominion a safe, honest administration.

Sir Charles descends from one of the oldest Scottish families, the Campbells of Auchinbreck, one of those families whose heads were among the first to receive the baronetage from James I. He has lived for years in New Zealand, Lady Campbell being a daughter of a prominent member of the legislative council of the Dominion. He is engaged in sheep farming.

Sir Charles has been in Victoria before having passed through to England. The baronet states that a stable administration was badly needed in New Zealand and this the present government is giving it. Questions of defence he did not care to discuss. The country was prosperous in spite of industrial troubles which have caused considerable disorganization of business in the cities, notably in Auckland.

On the present occasion Sir Charles will proceed through Canada without undue delay.

Returning to Province.—There is not a British Columbian who will not be interested in an official announcement which is conveyed to the Times by Martin, Craig, Parkes & Anderson, the Vancouver legal firm, that Joseph Martin, K. C., is returning to this province to re-enter the practice of his profession. Mr. Martin, who has represented East St. Pancras in the British House of Commons for the last few years, will not offer himself for re-election there. Only a few days ago cable advices stated that the government influence had been brought to bear to withdraw another Liberal candidate in the constituency, so that he might not be forced into a three-cornered fight. Mr. Martin has been engaged in Canadian cases before the privy council and also has been conspicuous politically. Nothing is known as to whether he intends ultimately to re-enter politics in this province as yet.

He was allowed a remand until to-morrow morning, when he will plead and decide whether he wants a summary trial or will go to a higher court. Interfered With Police.—While Detective Macdonald was questioning a suspected vagrant at an early hour today R. W. Brown joined in, and wanted to take a hand in the conversation. As he would not desist when told that he was interfering with an officer he was lodged in the city jail. When he appeared this morning he was allowed to go, as he pleaded that he did not know the detective was an officer, and it was thought that the hours he had spent in the cells would be a sufficient warning to him.

PANAMA APPROACHING PORT FROM FAR EAST

Maru Will Arrive Thursday; Robert Dollar Clearing From Victoria

Radiograms from Capt. Kanao, master of the inbound Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Panama Maru, announce the arrival of the ship at William Head on Thursday morning at daylight. The messages also stated that the steamship has 56 Japanese passengers and 230 tons of cargo for Victoria. The Panama is making an average passage across the Pacific, and provided fogs do not obscure the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca, the Maru will be berthed at this port at 8 o'clock on Thursday.

Word was received this morning by Messrs. R. P. Rithet & Co., local agents for the Robert Dollar fleet, that the steamship Robert Dollar, laden with 5,000,000 feet of lumber, will come to Victoria to-morrow morning to clear for New York. The vessel cannot clear from Genoa Bay, where she loaded her lumber, and will remain at anchor in the Royal Roads whilst her skipper is ashore transacting the final business in connection with his ship's departure. Th Robert is going to New York and it is understood that by the time she reaches there some arrangements will have been made for her port of discharge. Her lumber is consigned to Toronto, and it is expected that she will unload at some Canadian port on the St. Lawrence river.

Tacoma Maru is Sailing.

The Osaka liner Tacoma Maru, Capt. Hamada, is sailing for the Orient late this afternoon. She is fully loaded with cargo she took on at Seattle and Tacoma. Her passenger list will be light.

Advices received by local agents of the C. P. R. announce that the Empress of Asia, Capt. Robinson, is on time, having departed from Yokohama last Thursday. She is due here on Saturday.

CAUGHT TON OF SALMON IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

Portland, Ore., June 23.—What is declared the greatest run of blueback salmon known during the last 20 years is now on in the upper Columbia river, near Corbett's. One boat reported a catch of one ton of this fish in 24 hours.

McGouan's cannery at Corbett's was obliged to hire the cannery at Ilwaco, at the mouth of the river to send for the surplus fish. All the canneries are running day and night.

MUSICIAN REPORTS FINE OUTWARD TRIP

Harrison Liner in Port To-day, in One Bad Blow Off Cape Pillar

Outside of a stiff westerly gale off Cape Pillar when running from the Strait of Magellan into the Pacific, the Harrison liner Musician, Capt. Dunn, was favored by splendid weather during the long run out from Liverpool and Antwerp. The musician was berthed at the ocean docks at 4 o'clock this morning after being three days and a half working her way up the coast from San Francisco. Head winds delayed her slightly, but they were not of sufficient force to stir up anything of a sea.

Chief Officer Short this morning said that from the Mersey to Santos, Brazil, the first port called at, the Musician encountered summer weather all the way. Even the Bay of Biscay was as peaceful as a lake. The weather continued fine until the ship was about to enter the Pacific. The wind and sea from the westward assailed her and tossed her about. The storm, however, only lasted a few hours and up to San Pedro, her next stopping place, the weather conditions were good. The Musician left San Francisco last Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock for Victoria and would have been here last evening had it not been for the head winds outside.

The Musician was under orders, when she left Liverpool, to proceed home via the Panama canal and the officers were congratulating themselves on not having to round the rough coasts of South America. However, it begins to appear as though the steamship will not be passed through the new ditch this trip. The Benefactor, the last Harrison liner to arrive here, was to have been the first of the fleet to use the waterway from the westward, but the plans had to be cancelled.

When the Musician left the United Kingdom her holds were filled with cargo, but when she berthed this morning she was riding high and light. At her different ports of call she has discharged much cargo. At Victoria she will unload 400 tons of general merchandise and will probably proceed to Vancouver some time this evening.

NAME PORT WOODROW.

Seattle, June 23.—Bearing the distinction of being the first vessel to arrive from the Alaskan port of Woodrow, the Pacific-Alaska Navigation company's steamer Admiral Sampson reached the G. T. P. dock yesterday morning. Officers of the vessel explained that the new town at Ship Creek, Cook Inlet, has been given the name of Woodrow, in honor of President Wilson.

LAUNCH NEW STEAMER ON CLYDE TO-MORROW

Princess Margaret Taking First Dip; Mrs. Redmond Will Be Sponsor

To-morrow at the yards of Denny Bros., Dumbarton, Scotland, will be assembled a large and distinguished party of Canadians and old country people. The reason for the gay gathering will be the launching of the new C. P. R. steamer Princess Margaret, which is to operate in the triangular service between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle. The Margaret is the first of the two sister-ships being constructed by the Scottish firm, to be sent down the greased slip into the murky waters of the Clyde.

Mrs. Redmond, daughter of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., will act as sponsor. After speeches have been made from the launching platform and the health of the new flyer has been drunk, Mrs. Redmond will throw the gaily decorated bottle of champagne across the sharp, steel bows and say, "I christen you Princess Margaret." The big flyer will then slide stern-first into her native element and the cheers of the thousands of spectators who will undoubtedly turn out to the launching, will reverberate in the hills at the back of Dumbarton.

Great Event.

News that the Margaret would take her dip to-morrow was received by Capt. J. W. Troup, manager of the B. C. coast service. Great interest is being taken in the construction of these ships, not only on the Pacific coast, but also in the old land. They are the finest steamers of their class ever designed, and their construction embodies numerous innovations which will tend to make travel all the more comfortable and safe. The fact that Captain Troup has prevailed upon the heads of the company to see that better and larger ships are required for the rapidly increasing trade on the Pacific coast, should be the source of much satisfaction to the people of Victoria.

The new flyers are called marvels of steamship construction. They are to have three funnels the same as the Princess Charlotte and Princess Victoria, and in outward appearance, except for the cruiser sterns, will resemble to some degree the former steamer. The new ships will have a length of 390 feet, 50 feet greater than that of the Princess Charlotte, the largest of the fleet at present on this coast, and their tonnage will be 5,000 tons. Although no passenger licenses have been applied for yet, it is expected that the beautiful ships will be able to carry 2,000 passengers without crowding.

The great turbines which are to drive the new Princesses are now in the course of construction. They are the most wonderful parts of the flyers. The geared turbines, the latest invention in engineering, will propel the Princesses at a speed of 23 knots an hour when opened out to the limit. On the triangular run it is expected that they will maintain a speed of about 21 knots an hour. The run to Vancouver will be accomplished in three hours and a half and a great reduction will also be made in the Seattle run.

The Princess Margaret is farther advanced in construction that is her sister-ship the Irene, and it is not likely that the latter will be cradled into the water for another three weeks or a month. The Princess Margaret will probably start on her voyage to Victoria via the Panama Canal late in the year. Both vessels are to be ready for service next spring. Their appearance in the triangular route will witness the withdrawal of the Princess Charlotte and Princess Victoria. The Charlotte will be sent to Alaska, but nothing has been announced as to the company's intention with the Victoria. The Alice and Adelaide will remain on the Vancouver night run, and the smaller Princesses will find work on the other British Columbia coast routes. With the arrival of the new Princesses the C. P. R. fleet will be one of the fineat coast services in the world.

MAKURA ENCOUNTERED VARIETY OF WEATHER

Red-Stacker Steamed Into Port To-day From Australia; Many Passengers

Although the weather during the 22-day voyage was varied and not of the best, the passengers on the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. J. D. S. Phillips, enjoyed themselves immensely and the jovial disposition of the 250 travelers and the officers prevented the trip becoming monotonous. Concerts and entertainments were in full swing at nights and various games in progress during the day, so that time was not allowed to drag along heavily. The fine red-stacker warped alongside the outer docks at 7 o'clock this morning from Sydney, Australia, via Auckland, N. Z., Suva and Honolulu.

The log of the green flyer shows that she steamed through many kinds of weather. From Sydney to Auckland moderate S. S. W. gales with a heavy sea were encountered. The Makura was delayed a few hours at the New Zealand port but she had a spell of good weather to Suva and arrived there on time. From the Fiji Islands the Makura set her nose for Honolulu and she battled her way through some bad weather on that leg of the voyage. Snorting E. S. E. squalls with very rough seas were met for the first two days out. Variable winds and drenching rains fell for 48 hours, after which the N. E. trades were picked up. The sea continued rough and heavy rains fell. For four days after clearing from Honolulu moderate to fresh N. E. winds assailed the ship and a rough sea disturbed things in general. During the last two days of the run light N. and W. winds, with smooth seas and misty weather, were encountered.

Fair List of Passengers.

The Makura brought in a fair list of passengers for this season of the year. She had about 250 all told and the majority of these were booked through to eastern points and the United Kingdom. A few passengers disembarked here, including the following: First-class—Misses A. Estcourt, A. Danford, H. G. Cadwell and J. W. Good. Second-class—Misses V. Johnson, K. Stahl, Mesdames Lopez, Watford, Ingalls and child, G. Benjamin, Messrs. J. H. Lopez, C. H. Watford, F. M. Jarvis, G. Yoshimachi. Third-class—Mrs. J. C. Netson, Messrs. S. Mascon, J. S. Troine.

The Canadian-Australian liner brought in a full cargo and discharged a small shipment here. The importations included the following: 800 cases of dried fruits, 40 cases of canned meats, 525 bales of sheepskins, 250 bales of wool, 3,408 sacks of hides, 4,850 boxes of butter, 240 bales of hemp, 45 cases of canned pineapples, 300 quarters of beef, 12 crates of deer, 1,120 sacks of copra, 107 sacks of shells, 180 sacks of peas.

After spending three hours here the Makura headed for Vancouver.

RAISING THE DOMINION

Salvage operations on the sunken tug Dominion have been commenced, and it is expected that within a few days the craft will be raised and taken to one of the local shipyards to be repaired. The Dominion was sunk just off the fairway of the harbor on Saturday morning by the whaler St. Lawrence. It will require about $2,000.

GENEVA HAD EXCITING TIME AT MANZANILLO

Port Townsend, June 23.—After being seized by the federal army of Mexico, her captain and crew held up for several days incommunicado and orders issued for the blowing up of the vessel, the little brig Geneva sailed into port on Sunday night and yesterday entered at the customs house on papers issued by the commander of the United States cruiser Raleigh, at Manzanillo, Mexico.

The Geneva was seized by the Mexican transport Corrigan II., on April 26 and taken into Manzanillo. The brig was short of water and in a bad way, but was refused provisions by the Mexican federal authorities. The timely arrival of the cruiser Raleigh saved the Geneva and the British steamship Cetriana from being blown up. As it was, the Mexicans set off mines that completely wrecked the waterfront of Manzanillo.

SPORTING NEWS

BASEBALL REJECTED BY OLYMPIC CONGRESS

LEAGUE WILL NOT BREAK ITS SCHEDULE

Jess Baker Released by Spokane; Ban Johnson Frowns on Third League Plan for Major Organization

Paris, June 23.—Baseball was to-day rejected as one of the sports at the Olympic games to be held in 1916 at Berlin.

James E. Sullivan, head of the United States delegation, requested that baseball be included, but the president, Baron Pierre de Coubertin, reminded him that it was necessary, in order to have baseball considered an international sport, that six countries should play the game.

The congress also decided that notification of the number of entries must be made to the committee a month in advance, and the names of the entrants fifteen days in advance. Archery and Rugby football were adopted are permissible sports.

After limiting the duration of the Olympic games to three weeks instead of two months, the congress closed its sessions.

President Kingham, of Victoria; President Brown, of Vancouver, and President Dugdale, of Seattle, say they are absolutely opposed to splitting the season, and have no idea who is responsible for springing such false reports. "I know," says Brown, "that President Farr, of Spokane, is decidedly against such a move."

"Doc" Ashman, secretary of the Portland club, says that the Victoria outfield, Moran, Calvo and Wilhoit, is the fastest for straightaway speed in the league, and declares that the Victoria club right now looks about as good to him as any in the league.

Buffalo, June 23.—Hal Chase, who jumped the Chicago Americans and signed a contract with the Buffalo Federals, arrived yesterday. The quick jump to the Buffalo Federals was attributed to a desire to avoid a restraining order, which it was reported would be obtained. Chase played with the Buffalo team at Chicago on Sunday and planned to play here Thursday.

Spokane, June 23.—Jess Baker, left-handed pitcher of the Spokane Indians, was unconditionally released to-day. Baker was sold to the Chicago Americans by Spokane .From the White Sox he went to San Francisco and then he was returned here.

Chicago, June 23.—President Ban Johnson, of the American league, says there will be no third major league this season, if at all. "The third league idea was merely suggested to the national commission, and it is merely a possibility. No definite action was taken at our meeting in New York."

INTERNATIONAL MATCH ENDED IN A DRAW

Seattle, June 23.—The international golf matches between teams of eight men representing British Columbia and three Northwestern States, resulted in even honors, each team having won two and halved four in the singles, and won two in the foursome play.

In the match between H. Chandler Egan, two times national champion, and a resident of Medford, Ore., and A. V. Macan, of Victoria, present northwest champion, Egan won 4 up and 3 to play. Roger Lapham, of Los Angeles, playing on his Seattle Golf club membership, defeated B. Wilson, of Victoria, 4 to 2.

The winners on the Canadian team were W. Ricardo, Victoria, who defeated A. S. Kerry, of Seattle, 5 and 4, and W. Bone, of Vancouver, who defeated T. S. Lippy, 6 and 4.

Halved matches came in those of H. A. Fleager, of Seattle, against H. T. Gardner, of Vancouver; O. W. Potter, of Seattle, against A. L. Payne, of Vancouver; George Tilden, of Seattle, against A. A. Jamieson, of Vancouver, and E. H. Hughes, of Spokane, against J. S. Matterson, of Victoria.

The results of the foursome match follow:

H. Chandler Egan, of Medford, Ore., and H. A. Fleager, Seattle, defeated A. V. Macan, Victoria, and H. T. Gardner, Victoria, 5 up and 4 to play. Roger Lapham, Los Angeles, playing for Seattle, and O. W. Polter, Seattle, won from B. Wilson, Victoria, and A. L. Payne, Vancouver, 2 up. George Tilden, Seattle, and A. S. Kerry, Seattle, lost to A. A. Jamieson, Vancouver, and W. H. Ricardo, Victoria, one down. E. H. Hughes, Spokane, and T. S. Lippy, Seattle, lost to J. S. Matterson, Victoria, and W. N. Bones, Vancouver, 5 down and 4 to play.

NINE ENTRIES FOR RACE.

New York, June 23.—Nine horses were named for the Brooklyn Handicap, one of the classics of the American turf, run at the Aqueduct race track to-day. The race is worth $4,000 to the winner.

BAPCOS WON AGAIN SENATORS RE-ORGANIZE

The Junior Bees were practically eliminated from the junior league race by their defeat last evening at the hands of the White Sox, the final score being 5-4. Parfitt, in the box for the Bees, pitched good ball, as did Purdy, of the Sox.

This morning the Senator junior nine reorganized and will take the field this evening against the Camosuns at Beacon Hill.

The Bapcos continued to win last evening. They took a 9-4 victory from the Red Sox and are close on the heels of the Outlaws for the leadership.

LACROSSE TROPHY

WALTER SMAILL

Physical director at the North Ward playgrounds, who has organized a lacrosse league to enter the juvenile series. Robert Dowswell has donated a fine trophy for the youngsters and this will be played for by teams from the Beacon Hill and North Ward playgrounds. The conditions call for players under fifteen years of age. Joe Lally, the Cornwall lacrosse manufacturer, has donated medals for the winning club, and the latter will have the honor of holding the Dowswell trophy for a year.

WARDS CAPTURE THE INTERMEDIATE TITLE

Beacon Hills Favorite in Junior League; Commercial Teams Are Close

North Wards have the intermediate baseball championship almost in their grasp. To date they have beaten every team in the league and have yet to take a trouncing. They have won nine games without a defeat. Balcom, their first string pitcher, is easily the best pitcher in the league. In a year or so he will be fit for the Northwestern league. Victoria Wests, Capitals and White Sox are bunched for second place, the Wests having won 6 and dropped 2, while the Sox and Caps are tied with won 5 and lost 3.

Beacon Hills are favorites for the junior championship. They have a comfortable lead, having lost but one game and won five. Travis and Slater, their two pitchers, while but youngsters, are sought by intermediate clubs. These two easily outclass the opposing slabsters. Odell's colts, the City Messengers, and White Sox are fighting for second place. After having made a splendid start, the Senator team could not take a defeat and disbanded. The Camosuns, though far in the rear, are putting up a plucky fight.

Rendall's Outlaws must fight every inch to maintain their lead, as the Bapcos are playing good ball, while the Printers should improve from now on.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Barrieau's Cleverness May Win For Him.

Unless Cyclone Scott has improved greatly in his footwork and all-round speed in the ring, the mainland fight fans cannot see how the Victoria middleweight has a chance against Frank Barrieau when they clash at Duncan on June 29. The Terminal City youth has victories over Leach Cross and Bud Anderson to his credit and the wise ones figure that he will put Scott away inside the limit. Scott is not the same style of a fighter as Barrieau but he is a veritable glutton for punishment and is willing to take a couple of stiff punches to land one. Barrieau has improved immensely in the past few months, but he will have to show a better punch than he is credited with to put the fighting Scotchman away.

Who Will Be the Next Champion to Fall?

Coulon was the first champion to fade this season, and there is a chance that Johnson will be the next—Jack, not Walter or Byron Bancroft. The husky man from Texas and Chicago—3,000 miles from home—has only a short distance left to travel. He has been going quite a while, and, what is even more, he has been going at quite a pace. If Moran can spin out only a good, average battle—only the average white hope battle isn't good—nature will come far enough to his rescue to look after the result.

Johnson has not fought a regular battle in four or five years. And if a contender can lead the life that he has known and refrain from competition all this time, and still win, it will be a hard blow at the white hope industry established the day after Jim Jeffries toppled and dropped at Reno. If Johnson can still hold his title it will be by default. Of late years, the last fifteen anyway, the fighting game has been unable to develop but one star heavyweight at a time. Jeffries had no rival for seven years, and Johnson has not had one for five.

Expect to Break a Record.

Judging from the fast times made by the college crews assembled at Poughkeepsie for the International regatta meet Friday a new record for the course is not improbable if weather and water conditions are right late in the afternoon of June 26. Cornell, Columbia and Washington have all given indications of possessing varsity eights capable of rowing four miles at high speed. The present record is held by the Cornell crew of 1901, which covered the course in 18 minutes, 53½ seconds. Cornell crews also hold both the two-mile freshman record and the 2-mile varsity four-oared time. The freshman eight record of 9 minutes 11 3-5 seconds was made by the 1909 crew, and the four-oared figures of 10 minutes 1 second by the four which won on the same day.

CREWS WANT FUNDS STAGE BIG TOURNEY

J. B. A. A. Track Meet to Include Boxing and Mounted Events; Prominent Entries

"The rowing members and athletes of the Victoria A. A. A., (J. B. A. A.), are making great preparations for what promises to be, without doubt, the biggest sporting and athletic event of the season, that to be held at Oak Bay on the afternoon, July 1. The object of the entertainment is to raise funds to defray the traveling expenses of crews which are slated to take part in regattas next month at Portland, Ore., Coeur d'Alene and Nelson, B. C.

A strong committee is working to carry the enterprise through to a successful finish, and the boys are devoting their spare time getting the track and grand stand into shape, as well as attending to the many other details in connection with the undertaking. Owing to expensive cups, medals, gifts, etc., which have been generously donated by the merchants of the city and old friends and members of the club, the committee is in a position to offer valuable prizes for each event.

The programme is a varied one, and will consist of track and field sports as well as a cavalry competition of an original and highly interesting character. This part of the programme will be taken care of by the B. C. Horse, assisted by well-known local riding experts. It will conclude with an amateur boxing tournament, to be staged in a specially constructed ring which is already completed, directly in front of the central portion of the grand stand. The committee is sparing no expense to make this part of the programme the cleanest and best exhibition of amateur boxing that has yet been staged in the city.

Two Pacific northwest champions will compete, Earle Baird, bantam weight champion, from Seattle Athletic club and Blayney Scott, Victoria A. A. A. (J. B. A. A.), light heavyweight champion. Owing to charges of professionalism having been introduced against Gerrard, who was to have competed against Baird, his entry has been suspended pending a thorough examination by the committee, and a substitute from Vancouver will meet the Seattle boy instead. W. Morrow, of the University of Washington, who recently won a decision from B. Scott before the Seattle Athletic club, will come over for a return bout.

Matt Scott, another husky boxer, will meet an entry from Vancouver, a light heavyweight who was in the semi-finals during the recent P. N. A. championships. Other well-known local rugby players and athletes will also enter the lists. Frank Galliher, star athlete and three-quarterback, will appear in the middle weights; Sid Hendra, popular Welsh rugby halfback in the lightweights. Lois Diespecker and A. Anderson, young athletes and oarsmen, from the Fifth Regiment, will also appear.

Relay teams representing the 72nd Highlanders, the Fifth and the school will compete in the track meet.

TO LIMIT ENTRIES.

Paris, June 22.—The international Olympic congress rejected a motion by Col. Robert M. Thompson, of New York, to allow in each track and field event twelve entries and six contestants from each country. This was supported by all the American delegates and by Sweden. The other countries objected because so large a number of entries and contestants would, they said, be too expensive for the smaller countries to send to the games.

INDIANS VICTORS IN OPENING GAME

Pope Had Nothing; Holke Starred at Bat; Leaders Won Again

Spokane, June 23.—Gathering in five runs in the fourth, Spokane piled up a seven-run lead on the Bees and the latter team's winning streak was abruptly stopped, the final count being 7 to 2. Victoria could not touch Cloveleskie, who was in the box for the Indians, while Pope had little. He was wild and passed four, also injecting two wild heaves into the proceedings. Victoria booted four chances, the infield being decidedly poor in the fourth session when Spokane sent five runners over the plate.

Holke, the locals' first-sacker, starred with four hits out of five trips to the plate. Delmas had a brace of singles, while Calvo's double in the ninth paved the way to Victoria's pair of runs. Spokane scored runs in the first and third and wound up in the fourth, Pope finding his bearing after that and stopped the run-getting. Spokane fielded in brilliant style and closed off several Victoria rallies.

Seattle's ninth-inning victory over Spokane and Vancouver's easy win from the Tacoma Tigers, their ninth consecutive victory over the Bengals, allowed the Bees to retain fifth place.

☆ ☆ ☆

Seattle, June 23.—A ninth inning rally enabled Seattle to win a fast game from Portland, 3 to 2, yesterday. The ninth opened with the score 2 to 1 in Portland's favor. Duddy, first to bat for Seattle, struck out, James and Cadman hit safe, Swain scored James with a single, and Cadman crossed the plate with the winning run on Huhn's sacrifice fly.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Seattle	3	7	1
Portland	2	5	2

Batteries: Gipe and Cadman; Leonard and Haworth.

☆ ☆ ☆

Tacoma, June 23.—Loose fielding aided by frequent hitting of Angerer and Hines gave yesterday's game to Vancouver by a score of 13 to 3. Ten hits were made off Angerer and each earned a run. Tacoma's only chance came in the sixth when three runs were made, but then the Beavers closed and it was impossible to do anything more.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Vancouver	13	13	2
Tacoma	3	6	3

Batteries: Doty and Cheek; Hines, Angerer and Harris, Brottem.

WINNIPEG EIGHT SHOWING UP WELL

Henley-on-Thames, June 23.—Winnipeg had a good outing yesterday evening with H. J. Riley, the spare man, rowing at No. 7 in place of Aldous, who arrived too late to take his seat. In a full course row Con Riley set the stroke at 34, except for the first minute when it was slightly faster. The men reached the half way mark in 3 minutes 39 seconds, and finished in 7 minutes 25 seconds. The Leander crew which was afloat at the same time covered the same stretch in 7 minutes 42 seconds. The opinion that the Winnipeg men are a very useful combination appears to be well founded, though it is too early to institute comparisons. The work undertaken by the crew this morning was of a very light character, easy paddling being the order of the practice.

The Victoria A. A. A. (J. B. A. A.) crews under the expert tutelage of Captain Dan. O'Sullivan, famous stroke-oar of by-gone days and popular coach, are fast shaping up for the various regattas. Although Mr. O'Sullivan will not commit himself, it is easy to tell by his optimistic smile, that he sees a rosy finish ahead of the long training season in connection with which he has labored so hard.

Seattle, June 23.—The championship tournament of the Pacific Northwest Golf association began on the links of the Seattle Golf & Country club with 98 players entered from all parts of the Pacific coast in the qualifying round for the men's championship. In the women's championship, forty competitors were drawn for the qualifying round.

BAIRD WON'T ENTER DAVIS CUP TRIALS

Schwengers and Powell Will Leave Next Month for Games in East

Sacrificing their business interests and also their chances of capturing the coast tennis championships, B. P. Schwengers and R. B. Powell have decided to leave for the east on July 9 and 10 to represent Canada in the Davis Cup games. The matches with the Australian team, against whom the Canadians have been drawn in the first round, will be played on the Onwentia courts, Lake Forest, near Chicago.

A report from Toronto brings the rumor that Robert Baird, of that city, the present Canadian champion, has refused to take part in the Davis Cup trials at Montreal. It is stated that he is willing to play if chosen on the strength of his Canadian title, but not otherwise. The elimination trials for the third and fourth places on the team are now taking place at Montreal.

The United States cup defenders will be called upon to face a heavier attack this summer than in any Davis cup match in years, and the expert tennis authorities are emphatic in their declarations that at best the United States team will not have better than an even chance of retaining the trophy regained at Wimbledon last summer.

It is certain that Champion Maurice McLoughlin will form the foundation of the team, but beyond that all is speculation. The California delegation, including McLoughlin, William Johnston, Clarence Griffin, Thomas Bundy, and possibly Ella Fottrell and Roland Roberts, has been requested to go east early in July. There they will be joined by Lindley Murray and H. L. Hahn, who have been playing brilliantly in the east for some weeks.

The eastern contingent, including Williams, Wallace Johnson, Touchard, Pell Dabney, Niles, Alexander, Leroy, Church, Hackett and others, have been playing for some weeks, and when the two squads join forces the U. S. L. T. A. officials will immediately begin the work of trying out the players in various tournaments in order to gauge their present ability for cup defending purposes.

Somewhat similar conditions prevail in England with the first rounds but a few weeks away. According to the draw the English team must meet Belgium at Folkstone July 7, 8, 9, and winning play France at Wimbledon July 11, 13, 14. England should survive these rounds even though the team selected for the matches does not represent British top-notch tennis strength.

The British team is: Parke, Barrett, Marragadato and Kingscot. Probably Parke and Kingscot will play in the singles, and Barrett and Marragadato in the doubles. The latter is essentially a doubles player, and one of the finest in England. Barrett's prowess as a doubles player is well known. In condition, he is perhaps the best; certainly he is the cleverest. If the British team is successful it will sail for America on July 16 on the Baltic.

COWICHAN REGATTA.

Douglas Street Baptist church was the scene of a largely attended wedding last Saturday, when Rev. H. P. Thorpe united in marriage Miss Marjorie MacIntosh MacDonald, of Scotland, and Alan Harper, of the B. C. Telephone staff, Victoria. The bride entered the church to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, and looked well in a graceful gown of white silk and shadow lace en train, her tulle veil being arranged over a chaplet of orange blossoms and heather. Miss Mary Grant acted as bridesmaid and Frank Harper as best man, each wearing a favor of MacDonald plaid and Scotch heather. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion with seasonable flowers, and during the service hymns were sung, the happy pair leaving the edifice to the Mendelssohn Wedding March. Afterwards a reception was held at the new home on Doncaster Drive, where Mr. and Mrs. Harper received the good wishes of their friends, the event concluding with a delicious repast during which many toasts to the bride and bridegroom were given.

CHORAL SOCIETY MEETS.

Annual General Gathering Took Place Last Evening; Officers Elected and Reports Read.

The annual general meeting of the Victoria Choral Society was held last evening at the Metropolitan Methodist church, when reports were read, and officers for the ensuing year elected. The financial statement showed a credit balance of $104.55 for the past season's work, of which sum $93.25 was ordered to be applied to the payment of outstanding liabilities from former years. A hearty vote of thanks was passed in favor of the retiring officers and to J. Douglas Macey, who has given such untiring and valuable work in capacity of conductor.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, E. Parsons; vice-president, Gideon Hicks; secretary, J. F. Mason; assistant-secretary, Miss Scowcroft; treasurer, J. B. Dickson; librarian, W. H. White; committee: Miss Perkins, Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Greig, Messrs. S. Clarke, W. R. Hornsby and W. F. Carr.

H. Otto Frind, of Vancouver, the young Alpine climber and explorer, returned on the R. M. S. Makura today from the Antipodes. He has been engaged in climbing some of the principal peaks in New Zealand and the Australian Alps, having left here some months ago for that purpose.

Mrs. Bourchier (Miss Violet Vanbrugh) tells a story of two actors who were discussing their professional careers. One of them mentioned that since he last saw the other he had left the stage. But why did you leave the stage?" his friend asked in surprise. "Well," the other replied, "I had a hint that I was not suited for it." "I see," was the friend's comment. "The little birds told you, eh?" "Well, no; not exactly," was the reply. "But they might have become birds if they had been allowed to hatch!"

MISS VERNA FELTON WELCOMED ON RETURN

Allen Players Support Her in Adequate Presentation of "The Woman"

Miss Verna Felton and the Allan Players were welcomed back to the city last evening, when they appeared before a fair audience in the Royal Victoria theatre for the first time. It is well on to a year since this popular body of players has been seen in the city, having been filling lengthy engagements in Prince Rupert and other provincial centres in the interval.

The play chosen for the reappearance of Miss Felton is William C. de Mille's drama of politics, "The Woman," which has only once before been seen here, if memory serves. It is perhaps natural that the son-in-law of Henry George should be found writing a play based upon the political manoeuvres of the American congress, though the subject has been better treated by other writers. In it are seen a number of types of the politician, grafter and corporation manipulator to be found about Washington, but the key to the particular situation of which the play treats is in the hands of a little telephone girl, Wanda Kelly, and in the end a woman's wit and sense of loyalty to her sex defeat even the machine.

Miss Felton shows distinct advance in her art since she was last here. In the part of the telephone girl she has a role that is well fitted to her abilities and every opportunity it gives she has taken full advantage of. Its portrayal runs from what appears the trivial daily task of the telephone operator to the delineation of deep emotion, and in the one as the other extreme of the character Miss Felton is equal to the demands made upon her. She invests Wanda with a charm that is irresistible. The strong scene of the play so far as Wanda is concerned is her grilling at the hands of the members of the ring and her unassailable determination not to give up the telephone number of "the woman," whose name and happiness would be wrecked by the politicians in order to crush an opponent. To this Miss Felton rose with an ease that speaks for the distance she has gone forward in everything that goes to make the complete actress.

The company with which Mr. Allen has surrounded his leading lady is the best he has ever assembled, and it contains several faces new to Victoria. H. Irving Kennedy and Charles Connors are still in the company and both show that with their principal the intervening months have been months of advance. Miss Lillian Fischer is an addition to the company of great value, and her rendering of the part of "the woman," who happens to be the wife of one and daughter of another of the men who unwittingly are seeking to attach a scandal to her name, is worthy of all praise. Mrs. P. R. Allen is inimitable as ever in her character parts.

Others in the cast are Norman R. Fuesler, Biron Eagan, Norman Pearce, Arthur Kenck, William Mansfield and Clayton Felton. There is a smoothness to the action of the play and a painstaking care on the part of all of the actors that renders this group of artists deserving of a large measure of public patronage.

The majority of the country demands home rule, and neither of the two British parties now opposes that demand in principle. If the minds of the people are robbed of the truth imparted by Divine revelation, if their wills are unaccustomed to the restraint which the discipline of Christian law imposes, what wonder if, consumed with blind passion, they rush headlong to their common ruin, driven by cunning demagogues seeking only their own profit.—Pius X.

How to Banish Wrinkles Quickly

If your face is disfigured with wrinkles, no matter what the cause, you can quickly dispel every line, even the most obstinate, by using a simple, home-made wash lotion. Merely dissolve an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel—inexpensive ingredients found in any drug store. Bathe the face in this, and—presto!—you scarcely believe your own eyes when you look into your mirror and behold the marvellous transformation!

The remarkable astringent action of the saxolite so tightens the skin, wrinkles are literally pressed out. Best of all, this result is not purely temporary, for the lotion also has a healthful tonic action, which tends to strengthen and tone up the weakened tissue, and added benefit may be expected with continued use. Use this once a day for awhile; it cannot injure the most delicate skin, the treatment itself leaves no trace—no one guesses the secret of your increasing youthful appearance.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR BLACKSMITH SHOP

Aldermen Give Work to Carkeek & Co.; Will Visit Stadacona Park

Tenders for the city blacksmith shop were reported to the city council last evening, the two lowest being those of Charles W. Carkeek & Co. at $4,438 and Thomas & Hodgson at $4,459.

Alderman McNeill favored the latter firm, as the members were residents and property-owners of the city, he said.

Alderman Okell opposed Ald. McNeill. Mr. Carkeek was of British birth and not a citizen of the United States, as represented last week, he stated. Mr. Carkeek had done good work in the city since he came here three years ago, as all the aldermen knew.

Alderman Porter said he did not attach much value to the fact, as stated, that Mr. Carkeek had not property in the city. Probably if they were in possession of all the facts they would find, he said, that he had done better work than other contractors in the jobs he had executed in Victoria.

Alderman Fullerton said the city wanted local labor employed. The aldermen had no assurance that Mr. Carkeek would employ it, he added. There had been too many references to Seattle and Portland for labor recently, he concluded.

Eventually, after a long debate in which each alderman spoke in turn, the tender was awarded to Carkeek & Co. by a majority vote without a division.

The election of five directors to serve on the Royal Jubilee hospital board in place of those retiring, was laid over for one week on the ground that the annual meeting of the subscribers to the hospital has not yet been held. Some of the aldermen favored immediate action, but they were overruled.

Two tenders, identical in amount, for the supply of fibre conduit for the electrical light department were read. As the figures quoted were equal, the electric light committee and the purchasing agent were asked to report upon them before an award is made.

At the approaching annual convention of the Canadian Union of Municipalities at Sherbrooke, Que., in August, the city council will be represented, it was decided last evening, and the council will contribute its subscription. The appointment of a delegate has been left over to a future occasion.

The council will contribute its share, $240, to the cost of grading Arm street, a boundary road in Victoria West, which abuts on Esquimalt municipality.

Alderman McNeill objected, when the health committee's report was being passed, to the recommendation to spend a small sum to improve the objectionable conditions in the market building. There had been no provision in the estimates, he said.

Alderman McCandless and Dilworth strongly supported the immediate remedy of conditions now existing. The items passed.

Tenders are to be invited for a supply of black soil for filling in the High school grounds.

The council accepted an invitation to attend the "Powder and Patch" performance of the Versatiles at Stadacona park lawn on Thursday next.

TO COMPLETE WORKS

Council Raises Loan to Continue Local Improvement Undertakings.

The city council last evening approved an agreement with the Bank of British North America which will enable the council to borrow $139,000 of the loan of $250,000, negotiated recently. This money is necessary to carry on local improvement work.

Hon. J. S. Helmcken is to be paid $1,000 for two and a fifth acres of land required for the pressure pipe line for Sooke waterworks, on section 93, Esquimalt district. The city is to have right of access to execute repairs.

New street lights are to be installed at the corner of Forbes and Bay streets, on Denman street near Ida street and Lotbiniere street near Rockland avenue.

Compensation for land taken for street widening purposes will be made to the following owners on Fort street, between Linden avenue and Yates street: J. A. Aikman, $1,200; Mrs. Agnes Campbell, $1,500; J. P. Elford, $6,627.75; Thornton Fell, K. C., $6,714.

LAY OVER MEASURE FOR ANOTHER WEEK

Aldermen Will Hear Retail Merchants on Early Closing By-law

Ald. McCandless' Shops Early Closing by-law was laid over for one week by the city council last evening, the desire of the aldermen being to hear a deputation from the Retail Merchants' association before any action is taken.

The proposed measure of Ald. McCandless provides for the compulsory closing of all stores, save those exempt under the provincial statute and those specially exempted under the new proposed by-law (dairies, fruit stands and drug stores) at 6 p. m. daily except on the eve of Sundays and public holidays. The measure makes provision for exemption during the two weeks prior to Christmas.

The mayor said that the Retail Merchants' association desired to express its views through its officials, and asked for a hearing from the aldermen before the passage of the measure.

Alderman McCandless claimed that the by-law was a considerable advance on existing practice in Victoria, and would be a boon, particularly on Saturday nights, when the hours were extremely late for stores remaining open. The hours often were also too late on other days in the week, he added.

Alderman Fullerton declared that four by-laws had been passed in the city, none of which had been put in force. They were measures affecting trades, such as the boot and shoe stores, the jewellers, the clothiers and the grocers, and had been passed at various dates since 1901. Were they lived up to now? he asked. The aldermen all knew the law had not been respected, he said. He, therefore, urged that the by-law should be laid on the table, till a plebiscite, for which the Retail Employees' organization was securing a petition, could be taken. Two thousand signatures had already been secured for the petition, he said.

On reference to him, the city solicitor said that the by-law could be enforced, and this by-law would, he thought, stand in the courts.

On Alderman Todd's suggestion, the exempt trades were increased by adding confectioners.

Alderman McNeill asked the city solicitor whether it was not a measure in restriction of trade.

Mr. Robertson said that so far as Canada was concerned no by-law had been upset as ultra vires because of the ground of restriction of trade. By-laws were in force in Saskatchewan and Ontario along these lines.

Alderman Bell objected to the extension of the exemption to include confectioners. This, he said, extended the field to a trade which also operated in groceries.

Eventually the council agreed to lay the by-law on the table for one week.

LEASE OF WILLOWS PARK

Alderman Porter Says Council's Resolution "Will Be Treated With Contempt."

The city council last evening formally reiterated the statement of its stand on the proposed lease of the Willows park ground to the B. C. Agricultural association.

The intimation which it is proposed to convey to the association is that after the Dominion exhibition, occupancy of the fair grounds shall be terminated, unless a new agreement and lease are taken by the B. C. Agricultural association.

Copies of the resolution of May 11 dealing with this matter are to be sent to the president and secretary of the association.

Alderman Porter said the association held to its position that its occupancy extended to the end of the year, and not merely to the fair.

Alderman Cuthbert thought the language of the resolution would lead to controversy in the future. He desired to have it appear that the council "wished" to have a lease executed.

Ald. Porter, who pointed out that the directors of the association hold that the tenancy of the grounds does not end until the close of the year, declared that they "would treat it (the report) with the contempt it deserves." (Laughter.)

The resolution was then adopted.

BLOOMS SHOWN WERE MANY AND EXCELLENT

Royal Oak Women's Institute Holds Highly Successful Event.

The Royal Oak Women's Institute is to be congratulated on the splendid success of the flower show held under its auspices last Saturday afternoon and evening at Royal Oak, many beautiful flowers being shown, and the people of the district showing a keen interest in the proceedings. The show was opened at 2.30 by Reeve McGregor, who referred in a brief speech to the educational value of such a display, and complimented the ladies on their enterprise.

The big hall presented a very inviting appearance, having been decorated by the children of the district with evergreens and vines, grasses and wild flowers, which further enhanced the neutral beauty of the floral exhibits. The tables themselves were exquisitely arranged, and whether the collection of the amateur or of the florist, all alike were conspicuous for the taste shown in the massing of the flowers. Roses and sweet peas formed the greater part of the exhibits, but there were few June flowers unrepresented, while one or two of the displays seemed to cover the entire field of seasonable flowers.

Among the most varied of the table displays was that of Mrs. Angus, whose collection of old-fashioned garden blooms was much admired. McKenzie Avenue school exhibited a very interesting collection of flowers and vegetables grown by the school-children themselves under supervision of Mrs. McLaughlin. Two wonderful collections of sweet peas were shown by Mrs. Darnell and Mrs. Gale, who between them seemed to have well-nigh exhausted the possibilities of variety in those popular blooms.

The wild flowers shown by children were evidence of the interest taken by the little people in the wild blossoms of the woods and meadows, and some of the baskets were not only supplied with a great variety but were highly artistic in arrangement.

Another exhibit by school children was worthy of a visit also, this being the manual training display by the schoolboys of the Saanich district. The lads, under instruction of Leonard Campbell, have been doing good work during the past year, and the many interesting examples of their handicraft were sufficient proof of their aptitude for the work, an inkstand, a letter rack, jardiniere stands, electric lamp stands, clock cases, and other useful and ornamental devices being shown.

During the afternoon tea and ices were served by the ladies, and late in the afternoon Reeve McGregor awarded the prizes as follows:

Geraniums, 1, Mrs. Angus; ferns, 1, Miss Duval; cacti, 1, Mrs. W. Quick, foliage, 1, Mrs. Duval; sweet peas, one vase lavender, 1, Mrs. Darnell; one vase crimson, 1 Mrs. Darnell; one vase pink, 1, Mrs. Darnell; one vase white, 1, Mrs. Darnell; annuals, 1, Miss Grant; pansies, 1, Mrs. Darnell; roses, 1, Mrs. Hobson, peonies, 1, Mrs. Hobson; nasturtiums, 1, Miss Grant; bowl or roses, 1, Mrs. Oldfield; Canterbury bells, 1, Miss Grant; basket of flowers, 1, Miss Williams, of Haliburton college; hand bouquet, 1, Miss Duval; antirrhinums, 1, Mrs. Gale; bridal bouquet, 1, Miss Grant; buttonhole bouquet, 1, Mrs. Carmichael; 2, Mrs. Hobson; bowl of sweet peas, 1, Mrs. Darnell; collection perennials, 1, Miss Grant; table centre, 1, Mrs. Oldfield; 2, Mrs. Butt; collection sweet peas, 1, Mrs. Darnell.

Vancouver Speaker Outlines Work of Men's Adult School Movement, Which is Non-Sectarian.

A mission meeting was held at the Strangers' rest rooms last evening. J. E. Carpenter, of Vancouver, hon. secretary of the Vancouver Men's Adult school, conducted the meeting and after delivering an address, referred to the proposal to organize a branch of the men's adult school movement in Victoria. He outlined the work of the schools of Great Britain and also in the various self-governing dominions of the empire. In Vancouver the branch was doing very useful service and, being absolutely non-sectarian and non-political it had appealed to the various churches to give it their sympathetic support.

Mr. Carpenter announced that a meeting was called for Thursday evening in the rooms of the Stranger's Rest, for the purpose of organizing a branch in the city. It is known that there are quite a number of Victoria's citizens who were associated with the movement in Great Britain.

Mrs Carpenter sang two solos, "The Children's Home" and "An Armour Bearer." Ernest J. Moy also delivered an address and referred to his knowledge of the adult school work from observations of the work of the Vancouver school.

Central Park.—The city council has decided to agree to the petition to change the name of North Ward park to Central park. Alderman Dilworth, chairman of the parks committee, told the city council last evening that the residents will erect electric signs with the name upon them at each end of the park.

Member of New South Wales Upper House Discusses Australian Politics

Hon. L. F. Heydon, member of the upper house of the legislature of New South Wales, and former minister of justice in that state, was a passenger on the R. M. S. Makura when she docked at Victoria this morning. He is taking a pleasure trip to the Old Country and is not stopping off in British Columbia as he has been here before several times.

Mr. Heydon is a member of a house which the labor government pledged itself to abolish on its election to power, but in spite of the fact that it has not been elected twice it has taken no steps to carry out this portion of its platform.

"Perhaps the upper house has been particularly well behaved on account of that pledge," suggested Mr. Heydon with a smile.

The labor government have shown great aptitude in the business of government, Mr. Heydon admitted, although from other remarks it was inferred that he was not on that side when engaged in the party struggle.

"The laborites elect members largely from their own ranks and their representatives live on their salaries as members and study for the law. Nearly all their leaders in this way become members of the bar and the labor men are thus assured of capable heads.

"I am surprised that you have escaped labor governments over here. You have manhood suffrage, I understand. I presume the influx of immigration prevents the labor men from organizing strongly. You have big labor disputes here, too, I understand.

"We have a compulsory court of arbitration of which my brother is chairman, but we find that it is impossible to prevent strikes. We have some prosecutions, as striking is technically a violation of the law, but experience has shown that you can't imprison half the population. The labor government appears favorable to the court of arbitration, at least they do not openly oppose it. But the men will strike."

Touching upon imperial questions, Mr. Heydon expressed the opinion that British Columbia was needlessly alarming itself about naval protection on the Pacific. In his opinion the big issue is to be fought in the North Sea, and he believes the donation of ironclads is the proper action for Canada to take.

"Of course our country has formed its own navy. I am rather sorry to see that, although the advantages are not nil. It develops enthusiasm among Australians and gives them training and makes them more willing to pay the price.

"One thing I think it is important for me to say, and that is in favor of compulsory service. Experience has made almost everybody in Australia strongly in favor of compulsory training. It brings up the young fellows in the right spirit and that I consider most important."

Crippled With Rheumatism

And Skeptical After Trying Many Medicines—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Cured Him.

When the kidneys fail to purify the blood the poisons left in the system cause pain and suffering, such as backache, lumbago and rheumatism. Read how this skeptic was cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. F. W. Brown, Kingsbury, Que., writes: "I have been completely cured of backache and lame back by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I also recommended the pills to a man who was a cripple from rheumatism. He was skeptical, as he said that he had tried nearly everything on earth. Finally he consented to try them, and to his surprise was greatly benefited in the first week, and the pains left his legs until he was so supple he could walk without pain or difficulty. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have worked wonders in this place, and we think there is no medicine like them."

The parson, on his way home one evening, to his horror and surprise found the church-warden sitting against a wall, his face radiating good cheer and a frayed cigar clutched in his fingers. "Dear me, John, dear me!" said the parson, "whatever do you suppose will happen to you if you go on like this?" "Nothin' sir," said John, "nothin', if you (hic) don't tell 'er!"

IS THE SOUL VISIBLE AT DEATH?

To the Editor: On three occasions recently I have observed in the columns of your valued paper the announcement that the soul has been distinctly seen departing from the body at the time of death. One startling account from a minister's wife, describing how she herself departed in spirit from her body and returned again to the body after she had been pronounced dead. The last report of the three referred to described how a scientist actually was enabled to weigh with scales a departing spirit and stated its weight. These statements, whether true or not, recall to my mind very vividly an experience of my own.

Some years ago I was sitting with a doctor beside a dying person. For at least half an hour the doctor sat watching his patient very closely without speaking or moving an inch. At last he arose, saying the end was near, bade me good-night and left the house. I then took the exact position the doctor had occupied and watched very closely for any sign of life or movement. One or two deep breaths at long intervals I observed, and then followed the convulsions of the features which plainly told me the end had come. I was still watching very closely and immediately after the features had relaxed I was startled above measure to see something which I can only explain as a distinct flicker ascend from the body, resembling the radiation of heat on a hot sunny day. I have never mentioned this to anyone, but the recent reports referred to have aroused within me a great curiosity to know whether what I had witnessed was really the soul leaving the body or some other phenomenon. Surely, sir, medical men, ministers, and scientists who must all be constantly brought into contact with dying persons must frequently have witnessed this sight, and to me it seems astounding that I have never until the last few months either heard or seen any allusion to this phenomenon.

What better subject can a scientist engage in than this for scientific research? What better subject can any minister preach on to remove the doubts and fears of millions of men who question the existence of the soul after death than this fact, if it be a fact, that the soul can be seen departing from the body at death? Seeing only is believing to many doubting Thomases, and if the soul can be actually seen, spread the news far and wide. Our faith in what cannot be seen is already taxed to the limit. Let us have all the knowledge that can be obtained which will in any way explain the mystery of death, especially in so far as our eyesight will permit, and, I venture to say, that this established fact will have more potent effect in the spreading of Christianity than by studiously leaving the subject alone, or by constantly guarding the question by the application of faith alone.

THE BURNED AREA.

To the Editor:—What is the chief topographical difference between the great rivals, Toronto and Montreal?

It appears to me that the narrow, crowded corner of King and Yonge, the two most important shopping thoroughfares of Toronto, compares very badly with the open spaces that link St. Catherine, Beaver Hill and St. James streets in the latter city.

Both cities make a great appeal to shoppers and amusement seekers from outside districts, and both, in spite of inclement weather, provide very attractive sidewalk parades in the afternoon and evening, affording entertainment to the stranger and pleasant relaxation to the workers of the town.

To accommodate these daily throngs Montreal has spent many scores of millions in widening (among others) St. Lawrence, Notre Dame and St. James streets, and Victoria square.

Toronto is at present contemplating an extension and partial widening of Yonge street that may cost fifteen million dollars.

But while Toronto is well supplied with parks and public squares scattered among her residential streets, she has nothing like the Place Viger, Champ de Mars, Notre Dame, Victoria, Beaver Hall and Phillips Squares, all of which give relief to Montreal's most crowded streets and set off her noblest features in architecture, whether church, hotel or office building. There is no doubt at all that while these squares relieve the pressure of sidewalk traffic, they are also the means of drawing additional crowds, not necessarily all money spenders, but all pervaded with the spirit that characterises Victoria on a Saturday night.

Should Victorians take an object lesson from those two cities we would not allow the "burned area" to be rebuilt at all. Four-fifths of the block bounded by Fort, Government, View and Broad streets should be at once purchased by the city and immediately paved after due provision for arched basements.

The southeast corner of the square need not be dealt with until times are better, but the main area must be bought now or not at all. If we do this the south side of Fort street will soon take on an appearance worthy of its opposing facade on View street, and there will be no break in the new beauties of our town, from the Parliament buildings to the Hudson's Bay store.

No city of a less assured future than Victoria could have withstood the bad advertisement of the burned area; surely we are large-minded enough to see that a rabbit warren of small shops on the narrowest part of Fort street will injure Douglas, Yates, Pandora and every part of the town which depends on attractiveness to our work people, our suburbs and our hotel visitors.

POTLATCHES.

To the Editor,—So called of recent times by new-comers, the word being really pah-tlatch, "to give," in the Chinook jargon.

I had hoped that the subject would have been sooner taken up in the public press by a probably more competent writer, but inasmuch as no one seems inclined to take up the question from the Indian's standpoint, and being one of the very few of the real very old-timers, I feel I can claim that I know whereof I write.

When it is considered that for a century and a half or more the aboriginal tribes included within the boundaries of present Canada were dealt with by trading companies like the Northwest Company and the Hudson's Bay Company, and that, with comparatively rare exceptions, in amity and peace, the question naturally arises how was it done and what policy was pursued? The truth is that the shrewd men who went into the wilds amongst the uncivilized inhabitants of the country recognized that although savage they were nevertheless human, imbued with all human passions, and whilst undeniably they were not under the same control as those of the white man, the natives were entitled to all due consideration and leniency at the hands of the invaders. Hence whilst pursuing a policy of strict justice, repressing in as far as possible all glaring vices and punishing without fear or favor all overt breaches of the moral laws, the wise men employed by the trading companies made it a point to interfere as little as possible in all the harmless and venerated customs of the aborigines, with the natural consequence that they lived at peace and earned the respect and often the love of the Indian.

Mr. R. M. Martin in his report to the Right Honorable Earle Gray, H. M. Secretary of State for the Colonies, about the year 1848, was sent out to investigate, inter alia, the conduct and policy of the ruling authorities (the Hudson's Bay Company). In comparing the policy of the American traders in Oregon with that of the Hudson's Bay Company, he says: "It is a matter of surprise and congratulation, therefore, that for nearly 200 years England, through the instrumentality of an effectually organized association, has not only maintained a position in North America but extended her power and held in check, if not to some extent, civilized or subdued thousands of savages who have found that an English company were their only friends."

Referring to the Indians, I quote from the government prize essay, 1872, by my father: "The judicious administration of the resident chief factor, the present Sir James Douglas, then governor of Vancouver Island and afterwards when disconnected with the company of both sections of the present province. . . . 'Kindness and consideration tempted by judicious firmness were the chief secrets of this marked success.'"

Now this signal success in the management of the Indian tribes was not affected by arbitrary measures such as preventing the holding of festivals in their own way. Surely the experience of 200 years should count for something. Why should the demands or recommendations of people inexperienced in the habits and customs and thoughts of the natives have such weight as to induce the authorities to enact prohibitory and vexatious laws? Why not go further and prohibit the potlatches of the white man, his Christmas festivities, garden fetes, dances, card parties and all other forms of entertainment when the host "potlatches" property in various forms?

The opinion is freely expressed, and it is one to which I most cordially assent, that the officials of the Indian department had better devote their time to other forms of repression and leave the comparatively harmless, time-honored and venerated customs of our native population alone. Let me conclude by expressing the hope, shared by many others, that the reported protest of the Indian chiefs may have its intended effect.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Canada boasts of many heroines who have performed deeds of valor under the impulse of the spirit of patriotism, and not the least of these was Laura Secord, the brave woman of Queenston, who by her daring saved a British force from capture and turned what would certainly have proved a defeat into one of the most glorious victories ever achieved on Canadian soil. It was 101 years ago to-night that Laura Secord set out on her dangerous night trip through forest and wilderness to warn a little force of Britishers of the impending American attack. James and Laura Secord lived in Queenston, and when that place fell into the hands of the invading army in 1812, several American officers took up their quarters in the Secord home. On that night 101 years ago Col. Boerstler and several other officers dined at the Secord table and openly discussed their plans for capturing Lieut. Fitzgibbon, of the Forty-ninth regiment, who, with his little force, had become a thorn in the flesh of the Americans around Queenston and Fort George. Laura Secord overheard their conversation and determined to warn Fitzgibbon. The lines were closely guarded, and men were not permitted to pass, but the brave woman contrived to get away on the plea that she intended to visit a relative in St. David's, who was ill. Through the uninhabited forest she toiled for about twenty miles, when she fell in with a company of Indian braves who were serving under Fitzgibbon. The tired and plucky heroine was led by the Indians to their paleface commander, and to him Laura Secord made known the plans of Col. Boerstler. As a result, the American marched into a trap set and waiting for him. The American had 544 well-trained soldiers under his command, while Fitzgibbon's army numbered only 66 white troops and 250 Indians. By a clever concealment of his numbers Fitzgibbon led Boerstler to believe that he was surrounded by an overwhelming force. The savages made enough noise to indicate that they numbered thousands, and Boerstler, rather than risk falling into their hands, surrendered his entire force to Fitzgibbon. When he learned the real situation, and that he had been outwitted by a woman, Boerstler was so crestfallen that he declared his intention to resign.

FIRST THINGS

The great revolution which has made France, after many vicissitudes, the home of liberty, fraternity and equality, may be said to have had its inception 125 years ago to-day, when Honore Gabriel Riquetti, Count of Mirabeau, touched the first match to the powder magazine. Six days before the 621 deputies comprising the tiers etat constituted themselves the National Assembly of France. On June 23, 1789, they, with the clergy and nobility, were summoned into the royal presence, and the rebellious representatives of the people were informed by the monarch that they must come to his terms, or be deprived of their powers. The Third Estate listened in silence to the king, and when he was gone De Breze, grand master of ceremonies, addressed them. "Gentlemen, you have heard the orders of the king," he said. In a moment Mirabeau was on his feet, shouting out the defiance that was to echo over France: "We have heard what the king has said, but as for you, who have neither place, nor voice, nor right to address this assembly, it is not for you to repeat what the king has said. Go and tell those who sent you that we are here by the will of the people, and we will not depart unless driven out by bayonets." Within a month the Bastile had fallen, and France had started on its bloody road to freedom.

HUMAN PROCESSION

Paducah, city, port of entry, and capital of McCracken county, Kentucky, advantageously situated at that point on the map where the waters of the Ohio and the Tennessee meet and mingle, is very proud of its potato, peanut and pottery industries, but it is as a port of entry that Paducah has gained its widest fame. Paducah points with pardonable pride to the undisputed fact that it was the port of entry for those two eminent men, Maro Klaw, of Klaw & Erlanger, and Irwin Shrewsbury Cobb. Paducah's 22,760 citizens are firmly convinced that Mr. Cobb is the greatest humorist since Mark Twain, and doubtless they could find several millions of Americans, and not a few Canadians and Englishmen, who would fully acree with them. Not dry husks of humor, but kerneis of wit and golden grains of wisdom, are the product of this Cobb—kerneis and grains as juicy and delicious as may be nibbled from the roasting ears of his native state. Among the present crop of humorists the husky Cobb stalks majestic—but, shucks, one maize-well stop before one is aroused of the crime of punning.

Irvin S. Cobb was born 38 years ago to-day, and in his tender youth was a shorthand reporter, a writer of jokes for comic weeklies, and a reporter on a Paducah paper. By the time he had reached the mature age of 19 he was elevated to the editorial chair of the Paducah Daily News, where for a time he reigned as the youngest editor of a daily journal in captivity. At 22 he entered the larger field of Louisville, where he gained a state-wide reputation as the author of the "Sour Mash" column in the Louisville Post. Later he returned to his native city as editorial manager of the News-Democrat.

It was ten years ago that Mr. Cobb felt an ungovernable and irresistible impulso to try his luck in New York. Paducah had palled upon him. He longed, with a great longing, for those things which young people call Life and a Career. Park Row and Broadway called him, and so, at 28, he heard the shrill voice of a trainman crying, "Joisy City! Alloutf'r N'Yok."

Safely settled in a hall bedroom, of a size which would have been considered too small for a clothes closet in Paducah, he set out to tame the city editors and make them eat out of his hand. If Irvin Cobb should send in his card to any city editor to-day, that individual would upset his desk and three chairs in his eagerness to meet and greet him. No such indecent haste characterized the actions of the city room tyrants when Cobb sought to approach them ten years ago. Stern and relentless office boys barred his way to the editorial holy of holies, and brought word from the inner recesses that the young Kentuckian was to make himself scarce, beat it, skiddoo, go back to the farm, or otherwise deprive himself of the society of the office boy. Everywhere it was the same—"Nothin' doin' "—and when he repeated his visits this assurance was coupled with the sage advice from the accumulated wisdom of the office boys, the common thought of all being that Mr. Cobb would better betake himself to a place where the climate is reputed to be less gelid than that of Gotham. Plump and good-natured, the young Kentuckian at length grew peevish and fretful, and while in that state of mind he sat right down and wrote sassy letters to every city editor in New York, telling them exactly what he thought of them, their ancestors and their descendants to the third generation, with a great profusion of detail, and without mincing words. That letter got him offers from nearly every paper in town, and, after a brief experience with the Evening Sun, he became the staff humorist of the Evening World. And now behold the plump and prosperous Paducahn, travelling about the world and up and down in it, and telling the world exactly what he thinks of it, and acquiring writer's cramp from signing checks reading "Pay to Irvin S. Cobb, or order."

Ancient Ely Celebrates To-day Festival of St. Etheldreda

In the ancient cathedral at Ely, England, and at Coldingham and other places in Britain, the festival of St. Etheldreda, the virgin queen, will be celebrated to-day with appropriate ceremonies. The woman who played so large a part in the early history of Christianity in England lived in the seventh century. As a girl she desired to devote herself wholly to religion, but her parents forced her into a marriage with Tonbercht, a courtier of the king of Mercia, one of the kingdoms into which ancient Britain was divided. She refused to be his wife in more than name, and when he died she retired to the isle of Ely, a part of Cambridgeshire. She had the fatal gift of beauty and she was soon torn from her religious contemplation by the amorous King Egfrid of Northumbia. At the court of this monarch she lived as an ascetic rather than as a queen and a wife, and all the arts and persuasions of the king failing to turn her from her course, he finally permitted her to retire to the Coldingham abbey, where she took the veil. It was not long, however, until the king was consumed by a great longing for this cold but lovely spouse and he set out to bring her back to the palace. Etheldreda, according to the legend, took refuge on a headland on the coast of Coldingham. When the king approached her refuge the waters forced a passage around the hill, transforming it into an island. The king, perceiving this miracle, left the saintly Etheldreda to pursue her own course. She returned to Ely and there built a church, and also founded a double monastery. The nunnery she filled with virgins and became herself first abbess.

Ely and the other scenes of Etheldreda's earthly journey cherish numerous legends of the miraculous powers of the fair saint. The Venerable Bede, the first historian of England, records many miracles worked by her relics. At Coldingham, near Berwick, the visitor may have pointed out to him the hill where Etheldreda took refuge from her lord, and he will be told many stories of the heroism of the Coldingham nuns, who, when attacked by the Danes in the ninth century, cut off their noses and lips in order to make themselves unattractive and so preserve their chastity. The visitor may also gaze upon the site of the monastery where all the mutilated nuns were burned to death by the ferocious Northmen.

Ely is now a bishopric of the Church of England, and hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent on the restoration of its ancient cathedral. The 1200th anniversary of the church founded by St. Etheldreda was destroyed by the invading Danes in the year 870, but a monastery was built at Ely a few years later on which King Edgar and succeeding monarchs lavished great privileges and grants of land, making it the richest religious house in all England. Ely was erected into a bishopric eight centuries ago.

"It's Always Fair Weather"

"SUMMER is here—I'll save money by cutting out my advertising." Thus a few merchants still delude themselves. They thereby confess themselves beaten by the weather.

But most merchants, in these times of keen business, would scorn to make such a move. The more obstacles—whether in the form of weather conditions or other handicaps—the most earnestly they strive for our patronage.

For a merchant to cease advertising as soon as the weather is a little warm, is to take his "bark of trade" out of the channel of good business and beach it on the sands of business dullness to await "fair weather."

But with the modern type of merchant it is always fair weather. His is an "all-year-round" store—a store ever ready to serve you, and serve you well.

He is a believer in all-the-year-round advertising. He does not take his advertisement out of the newspaper the first day of warm weather. He knows you may be in the market for something he can sell you—in July as well as in January.

He invests his money in newspaper space—every week in the year—to let you know he can serve you—and it's safe to assume that he "has the goods" in the fullest sense of the phrase.

You can obtain helpful advice on advertising free of cost and without obligation by consulting the Business Department of the Times.

ONE VICTORIA CITIZEN had 500 shares of Monarch at $1.00 per share; they are now quoted at from twenty to thirty thousand dollars for the lot. Some who were asked to buy at a dollar and did not, now say "If we had only known." In the London Union Oils Company, Limited, you have a similar chance to buy at $1.00 for a day or two. The whole of the Company's 5,000 acres adjoin the Monarch and the wells will be drilled under the supervision of the Monarch's expert. If you cannot afford to lose your money, don't buy oil shares; but if you do buy, London Union will afford you a splendid chance of making, comparatively, as good a profit as was made in the Monarch. THE LONDON UNION OILS COMPANY, LIMITED, controlling 5,000 acres adjoining the Monarch, is a conservative company with well-known successful business men in control; they decided before the strike in the Monarch to sell 200,000 shares of treasury stock at par ($1.00), less only 15 per cent. for brokerage and expenses; not to lower or raise the price under any circumstances until the issue was sold; the proceeds will provide sufficient funds to drill three wells 1,000 feet below the present depth of the Monarch; vendors' shares cannot be dealt with until oil is struck in paying quantities; by that time $1.00 would be worth $20.00 at least. It is a gamble like them all, but it is a long way the best gamble we could find. Herbert Cuthbert & Co., 635 Fort street. j23

WORKMAN ASSAULTS A FOREMAN WITH BOTTLE

John Jolly Goes to Jail for Month for Cowardly Attack on City Official

A cowardly assault was made upon a city foreman yesterday by a man who had been refused work, there being none to give any of the dozen applicants who turned up out along the Burnside road, where the trench is being excavated for the laying of the steel pipe-line of the water system.

For this John Jolly was to-day charged in police court with making an assault and causing grievous bodily harm to William Paul. He pleaded not guilty, and in the witness box later put up the plea that he was acting in self-defence.

Paul stated that Jolly was the last man to ask for work, and he was told, as had been the others, that there was "nothing doing." Paul had then started to walk across the lot toward where his gang was at work, and had got about one hundred and fifty feet when he felt a blow on the back of the head and fell to the ground. When he put his hand up he found he was bleeding severely, and that there was a piece of glass in the wound. Jolly was the only one near enough to have struck him.

Walter Thorpe saw Paul struck from behind by Jolly with a bottle. He described the bottle as making a report when it broke like a revolver shot, the pieces flying about. Walter Down saw the foreman falling and Jolly running away, and had a hand in trying to secure him. As Jolly was going through the timber, the witness said, he took up a couple of stones and threatened the men who were following him.

Constable Ritch told of picking up the broken pieces of glass, which he produced in court. He brought Paul into the city and, with Constable Taylor, dressed the wound. He arrested Jolly on Cormorant street.

An unconscious testimony to the efficiency of the first aid administered by the police was given by Magistrate Jay during the hearing of Paul's evidence. His worship, on seeing the way the injury had been dressed, asked the foreman what doctor had attended him, and appeared gratified when he was told that it had been done by the constables.

Jolly had a story about the foreman telling him that he was not a desirable pick-and-shovel man, as one of his hands is disabled, and he is not fit to handle that class of work, but it turned out that this was said on another occasion when he was looking for work. Yesterday, according to Paul, he had simply told Jolly that there was no work.

Magistrate Jay remarked to Jolly that he had been guilty of inflicting a very cowardly blow, striking a man from behind, and then running away, another act of cowardice. One month in jail was the sentence.

TWO MEETINGS HELD

Conference About Responsibility for Renewal of Paving Between Street Railway Tracks.

Two meetings in connection with city hall matters were held this morning, the first being a session of the sanitary committee of the city council, the second a meeting between Mayor Stewart, the city engineer, and other officials and Local Manager A. T. Goward, of the B. C. Electric railway. The difficulty of knowing who is responsible for the paving between the street railway tracks led to the desire to have the matter cleared up, particularly as several trunk streets are affected by the paving work now under construction, hence the latter meeting.

No important meetings are scheduled for to-morrow, but Thursday will see the aldermen gathered as a special committee regarding the Johnson street bridge. The evening of that day has been reserved for a meeting of the special council committee dealing with the problem of telephone underground lateral connections.

On an application under the Plans Cancellation act, brought by owners on Shasta street, a small street off St. Charles street, Judge Lampman this morning granted an order to close part of the street subject to an arrangement which will be made to protect all parties interested in the neighborhood. City Solicitor Robertson was instructed by the city council to oppose the application and attended court for that purpose, but accepted the arrangement reached for a settlement, which is largely due to the desire to terminate amicably a long standing grievance.

CONTINUES INSPECTION

Consulting Engineer Meredith Visited Sooke Lake To-day; Progress on Work.

The second inspection tour of Consulting Engineer Meredith over the Sooke waterworks system was made to-day, Sooke lake being the objective. Yesterday a visit was paid to the work at Humpback and Cooper's Cove.

At Sooke lake Mr. Meredith found the work almost completed, the caretaker from Elk lake, Mr. Campbell, having been moved and installed in the caretaker's cottage there. The concrete walk in front of the screen house has yet to be installed, and this is waiting till the fill for the concrete pipe is in place. Several thousand feet of lumber have yet to be moved from the lake.

Since his last visit the engineer found a great deal of work done on the flow line. The concrete trestles are being completed and the Pacific Lock Joint company is advancing with its contract for the concrete pipe, some of which has been laid from Sooke lake. On account of the danger of a slide again at Goldstream schoolhouse cut, pipe of extra thickness will be put in there.

GET PEOPLE ON LAND DUTY OF GOVERNMENT

Mayor Deacon, Winnipeg, Believes More Cultivation is Great Western Need

Mayor T. R. Deacon, of Winnipeg, departed from Victoria this morning after a 24-hour visit at the home of F. D. Picken, superintendent of the Saanich division of the B. C. Electric railway. Before leaving he paid a visit to the Parliament buildings, but he was so early that none of the heads of departments were in their offices and he failed to meet them. He was accompanied by Mrs. Deacon while here, and before leaving expressed his delight with the growth he had witnessed in Victoria since his last visit eight years ago. He found many Winnipeg people here, and all appeared to be doing well.

During his conference with Mayor Stewart yesterday the question of water works was discussed, and notes were compared respecting the undertakings of Victoria and Winnipeg. A plan originated by Mayor Deacon to bring water 95 miles at an expense of $15,000,000 is now being carried out in the big prairie city, and a standard guage steam railway is being constructed along the route of the pipe line to convey materials.

"I perceive that you have a problem with the unemployed as have the other western cities at present," stated Mayor Deacon to a reporter of the Times. "Indications are in all the prairie provinces that there will be an exceptionally fine crop and this should give relief in this direction.

"My firm, the Manitoba Bridge and Iron Works, Ltd., has agencies throughout the west, and on my visits to all of them I was pleased to observe a striking revival of business within the past few weeks, and I believe a general betterment of business depends merely upon a matter of confidence.

"In the west here we must develop the land. The towns and cities are well enough developed now, and we must cut off the rush to the centres of population and divert it to the country. More of the soil must be got under cultivation. The importation of mutton and butter from Australia and New Zealand is more than a bad advertisement for our western agricultural provinces; it is a bad economic condition as it makes living unnecessarily expensive.

"In my opinion the Dominion and Provincial governments should devote every energy to getting more and more land under cultivation. That is the real solution of further western development."

PRINCIPAL HONORED

Rev. Charles Allan Seager, of St. Mark's Hall, Vancouver, Receives D. D. Degree.

The Rev. Charles Allan Seager, M.A., of Trinity College, principal of St. Mark's hall, Vancouver, and previously rector of St. Cyprian's church, Toronto, last week at a meeting of the corporation of Trinity College, Toronto, was granted the degree of Doctor of Divinity honoris causa.

This honor was conferred in recognition of the good work done by Mr. Seager in St. Mark's hall of the Anglican Theological College of British Columbia. Starting two years ago without any assistance, he collected during the summer months the necessary money to start the institution, and gathered together those who were to be first students for holy orders. Sufficient funds were obtained to buy a house on Davie street, and here twelve candidates began their work of training under two or three tutors, taking up the course of reading laid down by the board appointed by the General Synod for degrees in theology.

Mr. Seager has won the respect and esteem of all who have come in contact with him, and has shown singular ability as a teacher. A second reason for the honor lay in the desire of the clergy and laity of his old diocese of Toronto to show their appreciation for the work he accomplished while there.

Rev. Mr. Seager entered Trinity College in 1892, took his B. A. degree in 1895, and his M. A. degree in 1896. In the same year he was ordained deacon by the late Archbishop of Toronto, and began his pastoral work under Dr. Roper, the present Bishop of Columbia when he was rector of St. Thomas church, Toronto, proceeding from there to St. Cyprian's. In 1911 he was elected rector of Vernon, B. C., being called from there to St. Mark's.

By-laws covering several local improvement measures were carried through their necessary stages. The council decided to hold a court of revision on July 27 to cover a number of local improvement by-laws in which it is desired to make an assessment. The total involved on the streets affected is about $20,000.

WILL OPEN TO-MORROW

Rose Fete at Mount Adelaide Promises Delightful Entertainment; Programme Interesting.

Such weather makes the prospect of out-of-doors diversion most pleasant, and all Victoria is looking forward with keen anticipation to the rose fete which is to be opened to-morrow afternoon in the beautiful grounds at Mount Adelaide, where rehearsals have been going on daily for the past week. Both Mrs. Croft and the members of the I. O. D. E. have been unusually busy supervising the finishing touches to the preparations, and it is expected that when the proceedings are formally opened to-morrow afternoon there will be nothing wanting to the perfection of the details.

The programme is a most alluring one. The Misses Dunsmuir have a very engaging vaudeville turn, and Miss Dunsmuir herself, in early Victorian dress, will sing "Mary, You're a Little Bit Old-fashioned," while Mrs. Cecil, Miss Street, and Miss Little will give a dance and Miss Phyllis Davis will give a song-dance entitled, "Whoopsy Daisy." Miss Muriel Dunsmuir and James Dunsmuir, jr., will appear in a tango dance to accompany Lawrence Earl's song, "Tango Dreams." Mrs. Conyer's Bridgewater's performance, "The Unknown Gollywog," will include some comic songs. "Summer's Awakening" should prove one of the prettiest of the children's dances, Miss Peterson taking the part of the Goddess Summer, and about fifty children dancing in this number. The Imperial idea will be exemplified in the Cradle of Empire, which took part in last year's carnival, and gypsies, a shooting gallery, ices and afternoon tea and other features will round out the interesting two-days' programme.

A professional turn of interest will be provided by Miss Mary Shearer, the champion Scotch dancer of British Columbia, and Miss Edith Emmett will also do several fancy dances. John Parker, champion piper of the province, will give bagpipe selections.

CLEVER ANIMALS POSE

Interesting Turn at Pantages Given by Dogs.—Programme Good Throughout.

In the very good programme being given this week at Pantages theatre quite one of the best turns is that provided by Woodward's posing dogs, assisted by Emmie Latoy. Picture after picture, all charming in their way, are only relieved from seeming absolutely artificial by an occasional quiver of an eyelid on the part of the clever animals who present the pictures. With a poodle and bull terriers of snowy whiteness most statuesque effects were produced, a series of framed pictures of "The Athletes," "Evening Prayer," "His Master's Voice" and others concluding with a tableau vivant in the form of a very amusing tango danced by the two smallest dogs, who seemed to require no instructions from the moment they were sent on the stage. Miss Latoy herself made a charming addition to several of the pictures.

"The Luck of a Totem," altered from the original Alaskan story to suit a Canadian audience, was also very entertaining, possessing strong dramatic features, and a picturesque setting. Some of the musical numbers in this, for example, "Prairieland" and "Katie," were quite tuneful, while the introduction was novel and interest-provoking.

Harry Jolson, barring his white wrists, was sufficiently convincing as "That Operatic Coon," and elicited some good laughs with his smart quips and operatic mimicries. Seven Russian dancers commenced their turn with a number of Occidental ragtime and popular airs on unfamiliar stringed instruments, and concluded with some very agile performances which were as spectacular as interesting.

INTER-MOUNTAIN RATE CHECKS GOOD FEELING

Advance In Southern Pacific Checked on New York Exchange

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

New York, June 23.—The Inter-mountain rate decision had a tendency to check good feeling and in part to nullify the Southern Pacific ruling as given out yesterday.

Buying in the list for foreign account was better being actuated by more confident motives subsequent to the legal action in Southern Pacific.

It was conceded that the list has been worked into a new area as a result of the Southern Pacific rise, and although that issue did not pursue its advance in to-day's trading, there was every indication of conserved strength and no pressure.

The decision is specifically of vast importance, as the lands in question were estimated by competent authorities to be worth an amount equivalent to the funded obligations and share capital issues of the company now outstanding.

WHEAT PRICE CHEAPEST OF MANY YEARS NOW

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Chicago, June 23.—Important interests sold wheat heavily and the trade followed this leadership. Selling met with little or no opposition, and both July and September options went below the 80 mark, closing well nigh at bottom.

Quotations were the lowest in wheat for many years, the crop prospect proving too gigantic a promise for the trade to obsorb easily, even in face of what looks like good foreign demand from hereon.

Liverpool closed fractionally up.

Oil Issues In Victoria Exchange Marked by Quiet Tone To-day

Athabasca did excellently this morning. This was initiated by what has proven a general demand for the shares and support was unanimous.

Range of the oil list was limited in view of the disposition to await further news from Calgary headquarters.

There was a sale of Coronation Gold at 16 cents, which is the lowest sale price recorded in this issue, the outcome of a featureless condition and no news.

Slocan Star changed hands at 45c. and action in this stock continued healthy in character with inclination directed towards an enhanced level.

LOWER WHEAT TO-DAY ON WINNIPEG MARKET

Winnipeg, June 23.—Wheat prices opened firm, being ⅛c. to ¼c. higher on Liverpool cables being stronger than anticipated, but speculative selling started soon after, and in the first forty-five minutes July month had declined 1⅛c. and October 1⅛c. from the opening points. At noon July was 1⅛c. and October 1⅛c. under the opening. The generally good conditions all over the North American continent and European conditions improved were the predominating influences. Winnipeg wheat closed 1⅛c. to 1⅜c. lower.

The cash demand for all grains was good, sales of Nos. 1, 2 and 3 northern wheat being considerable. Cash wheat closed ⅛c. lower for contract grades. Cash oats closed ⅛c. to ¼c. lower. Cash barley closed unchanged to ⅛c. lower, and cash flax closed ⅛c. higher.

The total number of cars inspected Monday was 714 and in sight were 170.

HERE FROM THE ORIENT

JAPANESE ARMORED CRUISER AZUMA

The two cruisers, Asama and Azuma, of the Imperial Japanese training squadron, in command of Rear-Admiral Kurol, left Vancouver at 11.15 a. m. to-day for Victoria. Formal visits of courtesy will be made on the arrival of the cruisers.

CAPT. T. HIRAGO
Commanding the Asama

CAPT. K. SATO
Commanding the Azuma

The government has made full arrangements for a reception to the officers at the legislative council chamber to-morrow evening, to which the public is invited. The national flags of both nations will be displayed as a token of international amity. Simultaneously the crews will be entertained by the city at the drill hall, the men of the permanent forces at the navy yard and the barracks assisting in the programme. Commander Hose has kindly organized the entertainment with his men who can put on a capital evening's show.

The Japanese local committee, of which J. N. Nagano and J. Ischi are the principals, have chartered the C. P. R. steamer Princess May, and will go out to meet the two armored cruisers on their arrival.

It is not known whether the vessels will be open to the public after shore leave has been extended to the crews following the exchanging of courtesies.

AIRED N COURT

Cross-Summonses Bring Former Employer and Employee Into Police Court on Assault Charges.

Numerous members of the Greek population of the city were in the police court this morning, when two cross-cases of assault were heard in part.

The parties in the cases were James Christy, proprietor of the Victoria Candy Kitchen and the confectionery stand at the Gorge, and James Falconer, who formerly worked for him. Falconer is accused of committing an assault causing grievous bodily harm on Christy, and in answer to this he swore out a summons charging common assault. Leonard C. Mills is appearing for Christy.

From what could be made of the stories of the witnesses and the two men directly concerned the mix-up occurred at a late hour on Friday evening on Yates street. According to Falconer he had walked along with Christy for some distance before they began to fight, but Christy swore that he was suddenly approached and struck by Falconer.

Falconer was at one time employed by Christy at the Gorge, and while there had some trouble which was aired in the police court. He apparently has been forbidden to frequent the stand even as a customer, and been told that he would not be served if he came. On a recent occasion Christy took a plate of ice cream away from in front of him.

After the fight Falconer seems to have gone about boasting of having beaten Christy, and there was some allegation that he went as far as bringing friends to see the blood, but this was denied by him.

The case was adjourned until to-morrow in order that a witness may be got for Falconer's side of the story.

HER LITTLE SON WAS DYING

Gave Him "Fruit-a-tives" and Saved His Life

"Campbellville, Ont., May 5, 1913.

"Our little boy, Lawrence, was sorely affected with chronic indigestion, and the doctor did not think he would recover. He started with a sore mouth and it developed into this other trouble. Everything he ate just passed right through the system without change. He cried incessantly and life was a misery to him. My husband had been using 'Fruit-a-tives' for indigestion, getting much benefit from them, and I thought what did him good, might help our boy. We tried 'Fruit-a-tives' giving Lawrence ¼ a tablet at a dose, and the result was marvellous. To-day, he is the picture of health, and he is perfectly well.

AJAX MAY CONTINUE WORK

Injunction Against Outer Wharf Contractors Raised by Chief Justice Hunter.

On motion of H. A. Maclean, K. C., in supreme court chambers this morning the injunction restraining the government dredge Ajax from continuing its operations at Royal Bay was removed and the dredge may now resume its work for Grant, Smith & Co., McDonnell, Ltd., and the other parties who have contracted to supply the gravel for the big government works at the outer wharf. R. C. Lowe opposed the dissolution of the injunction for the parties who have contracted to supply the gravel for the big government works at the outer wharf. R. C. Lowe opposed the dissolution of the injunction for the parties who launched the action, the Royal Bay Sand and Gravel company and the Pacific Coast Realty Co., Ltd.

The work to which the plaintiffs objected was the constructing of a groin which the plaintiffs alleged caused a back eddy which drew sand in and deposited it in such a place as to decrease the depth of water at the Royal Bay Sand and Gravel company's wharf on property adjoining the defendant. Mr. Maclean maintained this morning that the groin was for the protection of the defendants' property and as such was within the right of the defendants to erect.

Chief Justice Hunter decided that the defendants had a right to protect their own property unless the plaintiff could establish an irreparable damage. In such a case this was impossible as the damage was purely speculative. He therefore asked the defence for an undertaking that any damages awarded at the trial would be paid and this was given. On this undertaking the injunction was dissolved.

The defendants who succeeded in this morning's application were the two contracting firms named and A. G. Sargison, Arthur Lineham and Captain Newcombe of the Ajax.

To-morrow Is the Opening Day

New Dental Parlors to Begin Business in Victoria on Wednesday

The altering of the Palace Building, 1304 Government, corner of Yates, is completed, the painters and decorators have placed their final touches, and to-day the electricians, plumbers and compressed air fitters have finished connecting the many time and pain-saving devices to be used by Dr. Gilbert and his associates in the performance of painless-painstaking dentistry.

On every hand Dr. Gilbert is constantly being complimented on bringing to Victoria a much needed institution—a dental office, up to the minute in every detail, where the people can receive the best services at moderate fees, work performed accurately and painlessly and in the shortest time consistant with good workmanship.

In conversation with a Times representative Dr. Gilbert said: "For years I have been waiting upon Victorians in my Vancouver and Seattle offices, and in every instance the people complain that dentistry costs too much in Victoria. Due to this fact I have installed an office excelled by none and equiped to perform any dental operation or make or repair anything in the dental line. My painless methods have met with the approval of thousands, my system of anaesthizing the teeth themselves so that I can fill, crown or extract painlessly is a perfect success, and the written guarantee I issue on each and every piece of work is honored in every city that I have an office, insuring you of a pleasing and lasting result. My prices are moderate—high enough to insure you quality and workmanship, but low enough to be within the reach of the most humble, I make examinations free and give you a complete estimate without cost or obligation.

DR. O. C. GILBERT
General Manager of The Gilbert's Painless Dental Parlors and Local Manager for the Victoria Office.

To-morrow I will throw my office open to the inspection of the public, and I invite one and all to call, and I will gladly show you then the different departments and demonstrate the many fine qualities of the equipment I have just installed.

FAVOR HOME RULE

Rev. Father Pigot Speaks of Roman Catholics of Australia; Passes Through Victoria.

That the Roman Catholics of Australia are at one in supporting Home Rule for Ireland is the opinion of Rev. Father E. F. Pigot, of Sydney, N. S. W., who passed through Victoria this morning on R. M. S. Makura.

Father Pigot says that so popular in New South Wales is the movement for Irish Home Rule that the two morning dailies in Sydney have shifted their ground till now they are enthusiastic for the government of Ireland bill. Australia had always been very sympathetic to the cause of a separate administration for Ireland, and the prospects of the setting up of a ministry next year in Dublin were regarded there as particularly hopeful.

The educational situation in New South Wales, to which considerable attention has been directed throughout the empire in recent years because of the trenchent criticisms of the late Cardinal Moran, had not been materially affected by the concessions made to the Roman Catholic minority by the government. There were objectionable features still in the syllabus, and the Catholics of the state would never rest content till they had removed these drawbacks to the exercise of their religion. While the present archbishop was not taking such an active part in controversy as his doughty predecessor, the campaign to secure additional concessions to the form of faith he represents had never been allowed to cease.

Father Pigot briefly touched on the educational and philanthropic movements of the Roman Catholic church in Australia, where the Irish element, particularly in the large towns, is very strong. He referred also to the work of the Christian brothers. He is routed across Canada to Ireland, which country he visits periodically. His headquarters are in Sydney.

NATIVE SONS' NEW POST.

If Sufficient Members Can Be Obtained Second Post Will Be Established in Victoria.

It is admitted generally that the establishment of Post Number 1, Native Sons Society of B. C., has been of great service in perpetuating in the minds of all those born in this province the memories of the men and women who as pioneers did so much to prepare the way for those who followed.

For some time it has been felt by the members of the society that the time has come when a second post may very well be established in the capital. This is thought to be in the best interests of both the society and the native sons.

As a preliminary step towards this those who would like to join the new post are asked to make application at an early date. All native sons of the province of white race, who are over the age of eighteen and are of good character, are eligible to membership.

Such applications should be made to Reginald Hayward, 734 Broughton street, or Philip J. Hall, 629 John street, before July 10. The objects of the society are mutual benefit, mental improvement and social intercourse, and the cherishing of the memories of the pioneers in every way.

Cured of Piles and Eczema

By Using Three Boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Abram Buhr, Herbert, Sask., writes: "I want to say that I was troubled with eczema and piles and suffered greatly from the itching, burning sensations caused by these annoying ailments. I sent for a free sample of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and this did me so much good that I bought three boxes more, and after using same was cured of both eczema and piles."

This is the kind of letters we receive daily from people who have been cured of these distressing skin diseases by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. No matter how skeptical you might be, you could not read these letters for many days without concluding that Dr. Chase's Ointment is undoubtedly the most prompt relief and certain cure for these ailments.

If you have doubts send for a free sample box and be convinced. It was by use of a free sample that Mr. Buhr was convinced of the merits of this treatment. For sale at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

ADDRESSES ROSSLAND MEN ON FIRST AID

Secretary Jacobs Points to Efficiency of Victoria Police as Good Example

When in Rossland a few days ago, E. Jacobs, of Victoria, who is honorary traveling secretary to the British Columbia Council of the Canadian Branch of the St. John Ambulance association, addressed the morning and afternoon first-aid classes meeting in the Miners' Union hall.

Mr. Jacobs expressed much gratification in finding that first-aid work had been taken up enthusiastically by so comparatively large a number of Rossland men connected with mining, and that local medical men had been good enough to deliver lectures giving instruction in first-aid work. He pointed out that while the most important thing is for men to become efficient in rendering prompt assistance to the injured, it is desirable that they receive instruction under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance association and pass its examination so as to obtain a certificate. Thomas Graham, chief inspector of mines for British Columbia, in the course of a discussion last February in Vancouver had said: "First-aid work has been carried on around the coal mines in the province for a number of years. Probably more interest has been taken in the work at the Nanaimo collieries than at others in British Columbia; it was there encouraged much by the Western Fuel company's officials, and the local doctors also took great interest in it. There had not been standard examinations, but as the Coal Mines Regulation act requires applicants for competency under its provisions to possess first-aid certificates, instructions in first-aid had been given by local doctors, but not under a uniform curriculum nor examination. The establishment in the province of the St. John Ambulance association had, however, provided a standard curriculum and examination and the issuance to successful candidates of certificates that are recognized throughout the British empire. The chief inspector believed much good could be done by the encouragement of the work of the St. John Ambulance association and the organization of local centres in mining districts. There was a large field for its first-aid work, especially in the metalliferous mining districts of the province. The coal miners had done good work in this direction, but as yet, very little had been done by the metalliferous miners.

"At the same meeting of the Western Branch of the Canadian Mining Institute as that at which Mr. Graham made the comments just quoted," Mr. Jacobs said, "he gave some information relative to fatal accidents in the metalliferous mines of the province as follows:

"'There were thirteen fatal accidents in the metalliferous mines in 1913, which was an increase of five over the number for 1912. The ratio of fatal accidents per 1,000 persons employed was three as against 2.10 for 1912. This, while a large increase as compared with 1912, is, with the exception of that year, the smallest in the last ten years. The average for the ten-year period, 1904-1913, was 4.35 per 1,000 persons employed.'

"In the course of a paper, contributed to the same meeting by Dr. W. D. Brydon-Jack, of Vancouver, the following information was given by the doctor: 'As to the necessity for a knowledge of first-aid among the miners—there is, perhaps, no other class of workmen for whom this knowledge is so essential, and this for many reasons that will readily suggest themselves. It is evidenced and emphasized here in British Columbia by the number of those who have already qualified in this voluntary educational work and by the earnest interest taken by many of them in striving to perfect themselves and in assisting in extending to others the privileges and advantages incidental to this knowledge.

"'All who have considered the subject, and especially those whose interest has been so far stimulated as to lead them to qualify for first-aid certificates, recognize the necessity for, and the great possibilities in connection with further extension of the work, not only among the miners themselves but, as well, among their wives and families.'"

Mr. Jacobs also mentioned the great interest taken by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught when, at a first-aid demonstration held in Victoria, he saw miners from Nanaimo improvise a stretcher with long-handled shovels and coats and on this, instead of the regulation stretcher, convey their subject to the point indicated in the rules of the contest. The governor-general complimented the miners' team on their ready resourcefulness in this matter.

After speaking of the excellent work done right along in the ordinary course of duty by the Victoria police, nearly every man in the force being a qualified first-aider, Mr. Jacobs said that there was no reason why the metal-miners of the province, and especially those who in Rossland were showing such commendable enthusiasm in the work, should not merit a similar eulogy to that Major Hodgetts, M.D., had bestowed on the coal miners of Vancouver island. He earnestly wished them God-speed in their first-aid work, in the interests of both themselves and fellow-workmen, though he hoped the occasions for its practical application would be few.

In the Rossland first aid classes there are about 80 men, including an editor, a clergyman and two mining company managers.

Mr. Jacobs went on from Rossland to several other points and expects to be back in Victoria about the end of this week. His tour has covered six weeks.

For Hairy Growths on Face, Neck or Arms

(Helps to Beauty.)

Keep a small, original package of powdered delatone on your dressing table and when ugly, hairy growths appear on chin, lip or cheek, make enough paste with a little of the powder and water to cover the hairy surface thoroughly. Apply and in two or three minutes rub it off and the hairs will come with it. After doing this, wash the skin to remove the remaining delatone and it will be left clear and free from blemish. Be sure to get genuine delatone.
